

Universitätsbibliothek Paderborn

PAssio d[omi]ni nostri Jesu christi se||cu[n]dum serie[m] quattuor Euangelistarū[m]: per que[n]da[m] || fratrem ordinis minorum de obseruantia:|| accuratissima opera:
deuotissimaq[ue] ex||positione ...

[Basel?], 1510

Rücken

urn:nbn:de:hbz:466:1-30822

The image shows a severely damaged page from an old manuscript or book. The paper is a dark, mottled brown color, indicating significant age and environmental exposure. Large, irregular holes and areas of complete loss of the paper's surface layer are visible, particularly on the left side. On the right side, there are remnants of text in a Gothic script, which appears to be Latin. The letters are partially obscured by the damage. In the bottom center, there is a large, faint blue ink number '779'. The overall texture is rough and uneven due to the physical damage.

Cum per angustias
a quae crux nostra hunc et revante fons tuus inquisitum. Ut salu-ut p[ro]p[ter]a n[on] accedit ad h[abitu]m ut p[ro]p[ter]a p[re]mium ad ut cito a vixim n[on] au-quar aliquam