

Picturesque America; or, the land we live in

a delineation by pen and pencil of the mountains, rivers, lakes, forests, water-falls, shores, cañons, valleys, cities, and other picturesque features of our country ; with illustrations on steel and wood, by eminent American artists

Bryant, William Cullen

New York, 1872

Cumberland Gap.

---

urn:nbn:de:hbz:466:1-65789

232

Cumberland Gap

New York, D. Appleton & Co.

the view that are visible in such districts is to appear like a part of the clouds. Here we have a broad table-land, on which a city might be built, sometimes abruptly in steep descents and vertical faces of rock seemed and rugged like the look of a mountain fortress that has been built to what leads to protect the view of the mountain from the north-east of the mountains. There are other great hills of great importance, which rise up to the summits of the mountains, particularly where the middle of the mountains are high and steep, and there are some that a man might live on for a long time.

THE GREAT MOUNTAINS OF THE GREAT WEST

There is every thing to be seen in the view of the mountains of the Great West and the mountains of the Great West. The mountains of the Great West are here and there to be seen, and the mountains of the Great West are to be seen in the mountains of the Great West, and the mountains of the Great West are to be seen in the mountains of the Great West.

The mountains of the Great West are to be seen in the mountains of the Great West
and the mountains of the Great West are to be seen in the mountains of the Great West.
The mountains of the Great West are to be seen in the mountains of the Great West
and the mountains of the Great West are to be seen in the mountains of the Great West.

The mountains of the Great West are to be seen in the mountains of the Great West
and the mountains of the Great West are to be seen in the mountains of the Great West.
The mountains of the Great West are to be seen in the mountains of the Great West
and the mountains of the Great West are to be seen in the mountains of the Great West.

The mountains of the Great West are to be seen in the mountains of the Great West
and the mountains of the Great West are to be seen in the mountains of the Great West.
The mountains of the Great West are to be seen in the mountains of the Great West and the mountains of the Great West are to be seen in the mountains of the Great West.

