Universitätsbibliothek Paderborn

Travels into several remote nations of the world in 4 pt.

Swift, Jonathan
London, 1726

Part IV. A Voyage to the Houynnhnms.

TRAVELS

 INTO SEVERAL Remote Nations OF THE W ( IT 10 By Captain Lemuel Gulliver.PARTIV.

A Voyage to the Houyhnhnms.

$$
L O N D O N
$$

Printed in the Year M DCC XXVI.

4.5 THE ## CONTENTS.

C H A P. I.

 HE Autbor Sets out as Captain of a Ship. His Men confpire agairft bim, confine bim a long time to bis Cabbin, fet him on Sbore in an unknown Land. He travels up in the Country. The Yahoos a firange Sort of Animal defcribed. The Author meets. two Houyhnhnms.Page 155.
M 2
CHAP.

The Contents.

C H A P. II.

The Author conducted by a Houyhnhnm to bis Houfe. The Houfe defcribed. The Author's Reception. The Food of the Houyhnhnms. The Autbor in diffrefs for want of Meat, is at laft relieved. His manner of feeding in this Country.

C H A P. III.

The Author fudious to learn the Lallguage, the Houyhnhnm bis Mafter af. fifts in teaching him. The Language defcribed. Several Houyhnhnms of 2 qua . lity come out of Curiojity to Jee the Alvthor. He gives his Mafter a Sbort Ac. count of bis Voyage.

CHAPIV.

The Houyhnhnms Notion of Truth and Faljhood. The Author's Difcourfe difapproved by bis Mafter. The Autbor

The Contents.

 gives a more particular Account of bimfelf, and the Accidents of bis Voyage.C H A P. V.
The Author at his Mafter's Command informs bim of the State of England. The Caufes of War among the Princes of Europe. The Autbor begins to explain the Englifh Confitution. p. 214 .

C H A P. VI.

A Continuation of the State of England; so well governed by a Queen as to need no firt Minifter. The Character of fuch an one in fome European Courts.

$$
\text { p. } 234 .
$$

CHAP. VII.

The Author's great Love of bis Native Country. His Mafter's Obfervations upon the Confitution and Adminififation M 3

The Contents.

of England, as deforibed by the Autbor, with parallel Cafes and Comparijons. His Mafter's Objervations upon Human Nature.

C H A P. VIII.

The Autbor relates Several Particu. lars of the Yahoos. The great Virtues of the Houyhnhinms. The Education and Exercijes of their Youth. Their general Affembly.
p. 271.

C H A P. IX.

A grand Debate at the General Af. fembly of the Houyhnhnms, and how it was determined. The Learning of the Houyhnhnms. Their Buildings. Their manner of Burials. The Defectiveness of their Language. p. 286.

CHAP.

The CONTENTS:

CHAP. X.

The Author's Oeconomy and happy Life among the Houyhnhinms. His great Improvement in Virtue, by converfing with them. Their Converfations. The Author has notice given bim by bis Mafter that be muff depart. from the Country. He falls into a Swoon for Grief, but fubmits. He contries and finifbes a Canoo, by the help of a Fellow -Servant, and puts to Sea at a venture.
beg users CHAP. XI.
The Author's dangerous Voyage. He arrives at New-Holland, hoping to fettle there Is wounded with an Arrow by one of the Natives. Is feized and carried by force into a Portu. gueze Ship. The great Civilities of the Captain. The Author arrives at England.
p. 318 .

Mt CHAP.

The Gontents.

CHAP. XII.

The Author's Veracity. His Defign in publijhing this Work. His Cenfure of thofe Travellers who fwerve from the Irutb. The Author clears bimpelf from any finifer Ends in writing. An Ob. jection anfwered. The Method of planting Colonies. His Native Country commended. The Right of the Crown to thofe Countries defcribed by the Autbor is jufified. The Diffculty of conquering them. The Author takes bis laft leave of the Reader: propofeth bis manner of living for the future, gives good Advice, and concludes.

TRAVELS.

PARTIV.
A VOYAGE to the Country of the Houyhnanms.

CHAP. I.

The Autbor fets out as Captain of a Ship. His Men confpire againfl bim, - confune bim a long time to bis Cabbin, Fet Bim on Ihore in an unknown Land. He travels up in the Cointry. The Yahoos a frange fort of Animal defcribed. The Author meets two Houyhnlinms.

Continued at home with my Wife and Children about five Months in a very happy Condition, if I could have learned the Leffon is 6 Voyage to of knowing when I was well. I left my poor Wife big with Child, and accepted an advantagious Offer made me to be Captain of the Adventure, a fout Merchant-man of 350 Tuns: For I unđerftood Navigation well, and being grown weary of a Surgeon's Employment at Sea, which however I could exercife upon occafion, I took a skilful young Man of that Calling, one Robert Purefoy, into my Ship. We fet fail from Portfmouth upon the fecond Day of $A u g u f$, 1710; on the fourteenth we met with Captain Pooock of Briftol, at Tenariff, who was going to the Bay of Campechy, to cut Log. wood. On the fixteenth he was parted from us by a Storm; I heard fince my Return, that his Ship foundered, and none efcaped, but one Cabbin-Boy He was an honeft Man, and a good Sailor, but a little too pofitive in his own Opinions, which was the Caule of his Deftruction, as it hath been of feveral others. For if he had followed

the Houyhnhims. 157

 my Advice, he might have been fafe at home with his Family at this Time as well as myfelf.I had feveral Men died in my Ship of Calentures, fo that I was forced to get Recruits out of Barbadoes, and the Leeward Iflands, where I touched by the Direction of the Merchants who employed me, which I had foon too much caufe to repent; for I found afterwards that moft of them had been Bucaneers. I had fifty Hands on board, and my Orders were, that I fhould trade with the Indians in the South-Sea, and make what Difcoveries I could. Thefe Rogues whom I had picked up debauched my other Men, and they all formed a Confpiracy to feize the Ship and fecure me; which they did one Morning, rufhing into my Cabbin, and binding me Hand and Foot, threatning to throw me over-board, if I offered to fiir. I told them, I was their Prifoner, and would fubmit. This they made me fwear to do, and then they unbound me, only faftening one of my Legs with a Chain near my Bed, and placed a Centry at my Door with his Piece charged, who was commanded to fhoot me dead, if I attempted my Liberty. They fent me down Victuals and Drink, and took the Government of the Ship to themfelves. Their Defign was to turn Pyrates, and plunder the Spamiards, which they could not do, till they got more Men. But firft they refolved to fell the Goods in the Ship, and then go to Ma. dagafcar for Recruits, feveral among them having died fince my Confinement: They failed many Weeks, and traded with the Indians, but I knew not what Courfe they took, being kept a cloee Prifoner in my Cabbin, and expeting nothing lefs than to be murdered, as they often threatned me.
$15^{8} A$ Voyage to

the Houyhnhnms. I59

 the Captain, to fet me a-fhore. I expoflulated with him, but in vain ; neither would he fo much as tell me who their new Captain was. They forced me into the Long-boat, letting me put on my beft Suit of Cloaths, which were as good as new, and a fmall bundle of Linen, but no Arms except my Hanger ; and they were fo civil as not to fearch my Pockets, into which I conveyed what Money I had, with fome other little Neceffaries. They rowed about a League ; and then fet me down on a Strand. I defired them to tell me; what Country it was. They all fwore, they knew no more than myfelf, but faid, that the Captain (as they called him) was refolved, after they had fold the Lading, to get rid of me in the firft place, where they could difcover Land. They pufhed off immediately, advifing me to make hafte, for fear of being overtaken by the Tide, and fo bad me farewell.160 Vorage to
In this defolate Condition I advanced forward, and foon got upon firm Ground, where I fate down on a Bank to reft myfelf, and conifider what I hiad beft to do. When I was a little refrefhed, I went up into the Country, refolving to deliver myfelf to the firit Savages I fhould meet, and purchafe my Life from them by fome Bracelets, Glafs-rings, and other Tors, which Sailors ufually provide themfelves with in thofe Voyages, and whereof I had fome about me: The Land was divided by long rows of Trees, not regularly planted, but naturally grow. ing; there was great plenty of Gras, and feveral Fields of Oats. I walled very circumpectly for fear of being furprized, or fuddenly fhot with an Ar: row from behind or on either fide I fell into a beaten Road, where I faw many Tracks of human Feet, and fome of Cows, but moft of Horfes. At lat I beheld feveral Animals in a Field, and

the Houyhnhems. 16 I

 one or two of the fame kind fitting in Trees. The Shape was very fingular, and deformed, which a little difcompofed me, fo that I lay down behind a Thicket to obferve them better. Some of them coming forward near the place where I lay, gave me an opportunity of diftinctly marking their Form. Their Heads and Breafts were covered with a thick Hair, fome frizled and others lank, they had Beards like Goats, and a long ridge of Hair down their Backs and the fore-parts of their Legs and Feet, but the reft of their Bodies were bare fo that I might fee their Skins, which were of a brown buff Colour. They had no Tails, nor any Hair at all on their Buttocks, except about the Anus, which, I prefume, Nature had placed there to defend them as they fate on the Ground; for that Pofture they ufed as well as lying down, and often ftood on their hind Feet. They climbed high Trees as nimbly as a Squirrel, for they had ftrong extended Claws before and162 $A$ Voyage to and behind, terminating in fharp points, hooked. They would often fpring, and bound, and leap with prodigious Agility. The Females were not fo large as the Males, they had long lank Hair on their Faces, nor any thing more than a fort of Down on the reft of their Bodies, except about the Anus, and Pudenda. Their Dugs hung between their Fore-feet, and often reached almot to the Ground as they walked. The Hair of both Sexes was of feveral C . lours, brown, red, black, and yellow. Upon the whole, I never beheld in all my Travels fo difagreeable an Animal, nor one againft which I naturally conceived fo ftrong an Antipathy. So that thinking I had feen enough, full of Contempt and Averfion, I got up and purfued the beaten Road, hoping it might direct me to the Cabbin of fome Indian. I had not gone far when I met one of thefe Creatures full in my way, and coming up direetly to me. The ugly Monfter, when he faw me, dif-

the Houybnhems. $16_{3}$

torred feveral ways every Feature of his Vifage, and flarted as at an Object he liad never feen before; then approaching nearer, lifted up his fore-paw, whether sut of Curiofity or Mifchief, I could not tell. But I drew my Hanger, and gave him a good Blow with the flat fide of it, for 1 durf not ftrike him with the Edge, fearing the Inhabitants might be provoked againift me, if they fhould come to know, that I had killed or maimed any of their Cattle. When the Beaft felt the frmart, he drew back, and roared fo loud, that a Herd of at leaft forty came flocking about the from the next Field, houling and making odious Faces; but I ran tontlie Body of a Tree, and leaning my Back againft it, /kept them of by waving my Hanger Several of this curred Brood getting hold of the Branches behind, leapt up in the Tree, from whence they began to dffcharge their Excrements on my Head: However, 1 efcaped pretty well, by fticking clofe Vol.II.

164 VOYAGE to
to the Stem of the Tree, but was alo moft ftifled with the Filth, which fell about me on every fide.

Gs the midft of this Diftrefs, I obferved them all to sun away on a fudden as faft as they could, at which I ventured to leave the Tree, and purfue the Road, wondring what it was that could put them into this Fright. But looking on my left hand, I faw a Horle walking foftly in the Field: which my Perfecutors having fooner difcovered, was the caufe of their Flight. The Hore farted a little when he came near me, but foon recovering himfelf, look'd full in my Face with manifeft Tokens of Wonder: He viewed my Hands and Feet, walking round me feveral times: I would have purfued my Journey, but be placed himfelf directly in the way, yet looking with a very mild Afpect, never offering the leaft Violence. We flood gazing at each other for fome time; at laft I took the Boldnefs to reach my

the Houyhnanms. 185

 Hand towards his Neck, with a Defigh to froak it ufing the common Style and Whiftle of Jockies when they are going to handle a frange Horre. But this Animal feeming to receive my Civilities with Difdain, flook his Head, and bent his Brows, foftly raifing up his right forefoot to remove my Hand. Then he neighed three or four times, but in fo different a Cadence, that I almoft began to think he was feaking to himfelf in fome Language of his own.WHILE he and I wefe this employed, another Horfe came up; who applying himfelf to the firft in a very formal manner, they gently fruck eacli others right Hoof before, neighing feveral timies by Turns, and varying the Sound, which feemed to be almoft articulate. They went fome Paces off, as if it were to confer together, walking fide by fide, backward and forward, like Perfons deliberating upon fome Affair of Weight, but often turning their

$$
\mathrm{N}_{2}
$$

$$
166 \text { VOYAGE to }
$$

Eyes towards me, as it were to watch that I might not efcape. I was amazed to fee fuch Actions and Behaviours in brute Beafts, and concluded with myfelf, that if the Inhabitants of this Country were endued witli a proportionable Degree of Reafon, they muft needs be the wifeft People upon Earth. This Thought gave me fo much Comfort, that I refolved to go forward until I could difcover fome Houfe or Village, or meet with any of the Natives, learing the two Horfes to difcourfe together as they pleafed. But the firft, who was a Dapple Gray, obferving me to feal off, neighed after me in fo expreffive a Tone, that I fanfied myfelf to underffand what he meant; whereupon I turned back, and came near him, toexpeet his farther Commands. But concealing my Fear as much as I could, for I began to be in fome Pain, how this Adventure might terminate; and the Reader will eafily believe I did not much like my prefent Situation.

Th®

the Houyhnhams. 167

The two Horfes came up clofe to me, looking with great Earneftnefs upon my Face and Hands. The grey Steed rubbed my Hat all round with his right fore-hoof, and difcompofed it fo much, that I was forced to adjuft it better, by taking it off, and fettling it again; whereat both he and his Companion (who was a brown Bay) appeared to be much furprized; the latter felt the Lappet of my Coat, and finding it to hang loofe about me, they both looked with new Signs of Wonder. He ftroked my right hand, feeming to admire the Softnefs and Colour; but he fqueezed it fo hard between his Hoof and his Paftern, that I was forced to roar; after which they both touched me with all poffible Tendernefs. They were under great Perplexity about my Shoes and Stockings, which they felt very often, neighing to each other, and ufing va4 rious Geftures, not unlike thofe of a Philofopher, when he would attempeto

$$
\mathrm{N}_{3} \text { folve }
$$

folve fome new and difficult Phano: menon.

UPON the whole, the Behaviour of thefe Animals, was fo orderly and rational, fo acute and judicious, that I at laf concluded, they muft needs be Magicians, who had thus metamorphofed themfelves upon fome defign, and feeing a ftranger in the way, were refolved to divert themfelves, with him; or perhaps were really amazed at the fight of a Man fo yery different in Ha bit, Feature and Complexion from thofe who might probably live in fo remotea Climate. Uporz the ftrength of this Reafoning, I ventured to addrefs them in the following manner: Gentlemen, if you be Conjurers, as I have good Caufe to believe, you can undertand any Language; therefore I make bold to let your Worfhips know, that I am a poor diftseffed Englifh Man, driven by his misfortunes upon your Coaft, and I entreat one of you, to let me ride up.

the Houxhnhnms. P69

 on his Back, as if he were a real Horfc, to fome Houfe or Village, where I cant be relieved. In return of which Fa vour, I will make you a Prefent of this Knife and Bracelet, (taking them out of my Pocket.) The two Creatures ftood filent while I fpoke, feeming to liften with great Attention; and when I had ended, they neighed frequently towards each other, as if they were engaged in ferious Converfation. I plainly obferved, that their Language expreffed the Paffions very well, and their Words might with little Pains be refolved into an Alphabet more eafily than the Cbinefe.- I could frequently diftinguifh the Word Yaboo, which was repeated by each of them feveral times; and altho' It was impoffible for me to conjecture what it meant; yet while the two Horfes were bufy in Converfation, I endeavoured to practife this Word upon my Tongue; and as foon as they were N 4 filent, filent, I boldly pronounced $\Upsilon_{a b o o}$ in a loud Voice, imitating at the fame time, as near as I could, the Neighing of a Horfe; at which they were both vifibly furprized, and the Gray repeated the fame Word twice, as if he meant to teach me the right Accent, wherein I fpoke after him as well as I could, and found myfelf perceivably to improve every time, though very far from any degree of Perfection. Then the Bay tried me with a fecond Word, much harder to be pronounced; but reducing it to the Englifb Orthography, may be fpelt thus, Honybnhmms. I did not fucceed in this fo well as in the former, but after two or three farther Trials, I had better fortune; and they both appeared amazed at my Capacity.

170 A Voyage to

AFTER fome farther Difcourfe, which I then conjectured might relate to me, the two Friends took their Leaves with the fame Compliment of itriking each other's Hoof; and the Gray made

the Houyhninms. I7x

 made me figns that I fhould walk before them, wherein I thought it pru* dent to comply, till I could find a better Director. When I offered to flacken my pace, he would cry Hbuun, Hbuun ; I gueffed his meaning, and gave him to underftand, as well as I could, that I was weary, and not able to walk fafter; upon which, he would ftand a while to let me reft. CHAP, P3789

C H A P. II.

The Autbor conducted by a Houyhnhnm to bis House. The Houfe defcribed. The Author's Reception. The Food of the Houyhnhnms. The Autbor in Diftrefs for Want of Meat, is at haft relieved. His Manner of feeding in this Country.

HAving travelled about three Miles, we came to a long kind of Building, made of Timber, fuck in the Ground, and wattled acroos; the Roof was low, and covered with Straw. I now began to be a little comforted, and took out fome Toys, which Travellors ufually carry for Prefents to the Savage Indians of America and other

the HOUYHNHNMS. 173

Parts, in hopes the People of the Houfe would be thereby encouraged to receive me kindly. The Horfe made me a fign to $g a$ in firft; it was a large Room with a fmooth Clay Floor, and a Rack and Manger extending the whole length on one fide. There were three Nags, and two Mares, not eating, but fome of them fitting down upon their Hams? which I very much wondered at; but wondered more to fee the reft employed in domeftick Bufinefs. They feemed but ordinary Cattle, however, this confirmed my firft Opinion, that a People who could fo far civilize brute Animals, muft needs excel in Wifdom all the Nations of the World. The Gray came in juft after, and thereby prevented any ill Treatment, which the others might have given me. He neighed to them feveral times in a fyle of Authority, and received Anfwers.

BEYOND this Room there were shree others, reaching the length of the Houfe,

$$
174 \text { VOYAGE to }
$$

Houfe, to which you paffed through three Doors oppofite to each other, in the manner of a Vifta; we went through the fecond Room towards the third, here the Gray walked in firt, beckoning me to attend: I waited in the fecond Room, and got ready my Prefents, for the Mafter and Miftrefs of the Houfe : They were two Knives, three Bracelets of falfe Pearl, a fmall Lookin-glafs and a Bead Necklace. The Horfe neighed three or four times, and I waited to hear fome Anfwers in a human Voice, but I obferved no other returns, than in the fame Dialect, only one or two a little fhriller than his. I began to think that this Houre mutt belong to fome perfon of great Note among them, becaufe there appeared fo much Ceremony before I could gain Admittance. But, that a Man of Quality fhould be ferved all by Horfes, was beyond my Comprehenfion. I feared my Brain was difturbed by my Suf. ferings and Misfortunes : I roufed my. felf

the Houyhnhems. 175

felf, and looked about me in the Room where I was left alone; this was furnifhed like the firft, only after a more elegant manner. I rubbed my Eyes often, but the fame Objects ftill occurred. I pinched my Arms and Sides, to awake myfelf, hoping I might be in a Dream. I then abfolutely concluded, that all thefe Appearances could be nothing elfe but Necromancy and Magick. But I had no time to purfue thefe Reflections; for the grey Horfe came to the door, and made me a fign to follow him into the third Room, where I faw a very comely Mare, together with a Colt and Fole, fitting upon their Haunches, upon Matts of ftraw, not unartfully made, and perfectly neat and clean.

The Mare, foon after my Entrance, rofe from her Matt, and coming up clofe, after having nicely obferved my Hands and Face, gave me a moft contemptuous Look; then turning to the Horfe, forfe, I hedrd the Word Yaboo ofien repeated betwixt them ; the ineaning of which word I could not then comprehiend, although it were the firt I had learned to pronounce; but I was foon better informed, to my everlafting Mortification? For the Horfe beckening to me with his Head, and repeating the word Hbunn, Hbuun, as he did upon the Road, which I undetftood was to attend him, led me out into a kind of Court, where was another Building at fome diftance from the Houfe. Here we entef ${ }^{\circ}$, and $I$ faw three of thefe deteltảble Creatures, whom I firft met after rify landing, feeding upon Roots, and the flefh of forme Animals, which 1 aftetwards found to be that of Alfes and Dogs, and now and then a Cow dead by Accident or Difeafe. They were all tyed by the Neck with ftrong Wyths, faftened to a Beam; they held their Food between the claws of their Fope-flet, and tore it with their Teeth.

176 VOYAGE to

the Houyhnhins. 179

The Mafter Horfe ordered a fortel Nag, one of his Servants, to untie the largeft of thefe Animals, and take him into the Yard. The Beaft and I were brought clofe together; and our Countenances diligently compared, both by Mafter and Servant, who thereupon repeated feveral times the word Kahoo: My Horror and Aftonifhment are not to be defcribed, when I obferved, in this abominable Animat, à perfeet human Figure; the Face of it indeed was flat and broad, the Nofe depreffed, the Lips large, and the Mouth wide. But thefe differences are common to all favage Nations, where the Lineaments of the Countenance are diftorted by the Natives fuffering their Infants to lie grovelling on the Earth, or by carrying them on their backs, nuzzling with their Face againft the Mother's Shoulders. The Fore-feet of the Taboo differed from my Hands in nothing elfe but the length of the 3 צका2 6 nails, nails, the coarfenefs and brownnefs of the Patms, and the hairinefs on the Backs There was the fame refemBlance between our Feet, with the fame difference, which I knew very well, tho' the Horfes did not, becaufe of my Shoes and Stockings; the fame in every part of our Bodies, except as to Hairinefs and Colour, which I have already defcribed.

178 Voyage to

The great Difficulty that feemed to ftick with the two Horfes, was, to fee the reft of my Body fo very different from that of a $\mathrm{K}_{a}$ boo, for which I was obliged to my Cloaths, whereof they had no conception: The forrel Nag offered me a Root, which he held (af ter their manner, as we fhall defcribe in its proper place) between his Hoof and Paftern; I took it in my Hand, and having fmelt it, returned it to him at gain as civilly as I could. He brought out of the Xaboo's Kenneb a piece of Afs's Flefh, but it fmelt fo offenively that that I turned from it with loathing; he then threw it to the Yaboo, by whom it was greedily devoured. He afterwards thewed me a Whifp of Hay, and a Fetlock full of Oats; but I fhook my Head, to fignify, that neither of thefe were Food for me. And indeed, I now apprehended, that I muft abfolutely farve, if I did not get to fome of my own Species: For as to thofe filthy Yaboos, although there were few greater Lovers of Mankind at that time than myfelf; yet I confefs I never faw any fenfitive Being fo deteftable on all accounts; and the more I came near them, the more hateful they grew, while I ftaid in that Country. This the Mafter Horfe obferved by my Behaviour, and therefore fent the raboo back to his Kennel. He then put his Fore-hoof to his Mouth, at which I was much furprized, although he did it with Eafe, and with a Motion that appeared perfectly natural, and made other figns to know what I would eat; Vol.II.

the Houyhnhnms. 179

buc
(8) $A$ VOYAGE to
but I could not return him fuch ant Anfwer as he was able to apprehend; and if he had underftood me, I did not fee how it was poffible to contrive any way for finding myfelf Nourifhment. While we were thus engaged, I obferved a Cow paffing by, whereupon I pointed to her, and expreffed a Defire to let me go and milk her. This had its Effeel; for he led me back into the Houfe, and ordered a Mare-fervant to open a Roon, where a good fore of Milk lay in eatthen and wooden Veffels, after a very orderly and cleanly manner. She gave me a large Bowl fall, of which I drank very heartily; and found mylelf well refiefhed:

00 ABO O IT 3 Noon 1 faw coming fowaris the Houfe a kind of V ehicle drawn like a sledge, by fous Yaboos. There was in it an-old Steed, who feemed to be of Quality, he alighted with his Hind feet forward, having by Accident got a Hyrt in his left Fore-foot. He came rud

the Hourhnhnms. 18 I to dine with our Horfe, who received him with great Civility. They dined in the beft Room, and had Oats boiled in Milk for the fecond Courfe, which the old Horfe eat warm, but the reft cold Their Mangers were placed circular in the middle of the Room, and divided into feveral Partitions, round which they fate on their Haunches upon Boffes of Straw. In the middle was a large Rack with Angles anfwering to every partition of the Manger. So that each Horfe and Mare eat their owi Hay, and their own Math of Oats and Milk, with much Decency and Regularity. The Beliaviour of the young Colt and Fole appeared very modeft, and that of the Mafter and Miftrefs extreamiy chearful and complaifant to their Gheft.: The Gray ordered me to ftand by him, and much Difcourle paffed between him and his Friend concerning me, as $I$ found by the Stranger's often looking on me, and $\mathrm{O}_{2}$ the$182 \quad A$ Vovage to the frequent Repetition of the Word raboo.

I happened to weat my Glores, which the Mafter Gray obferving, feemed perplexed, difcovering figns of Wonder what I had done to my Fore-feet; he put his Hoof three or four times to them, as if he would fignify, that I fhould reduce them to their former Shape, which I prefently did, pulling off both my Gloves, and putting them into my Pocket. This occafioned farther Talk, and I faw the Company was pleafed with my Behaviour, whereof I foon found the good Effects. I was ordered to fpeak the few Words I underftood, and while they were at Din. ner, the Mafter taught me the Names for Oats, Milk, Fire, Water, and fome others; which I could readily pronource after him, having from my Youth a great Facility in learning Language.

the Houyhnhems. 183

When Dinner was done, the Mafter Horfe took me afide, and by figns and Wonders made me underftand the Concern that he was in, that I had nothing to eat. Oats in their Tongue are called Hhunh. This Word I pronounced two or three times; for although I had refufed them at firft, yet upon fecond Thoughts I confidered that I could contrive to make of them a kind of Bread, which might be fufficient with Milk, to keep me alive, till I could make my Efcape to fome other Country, and to Creatures of my own Species, The Horfe immediately ordered a white Mare-fervant of his Family to bring me a good Quantity of Oats in a fort of wooden Tray. Thefe I heated before the Fire as well as I could, and rubbed them till the Husks came off, which I made a fhift to winnow from the Grain; I ground and beat them between two Stones, then took Water, and made them into a Pafte or Cake, $\mathrm{O}_{3}$
which

284 Vayage to which I toafted at the Fire, and eat warm with Milk. It was at firf a tery infipid Dyet, thiough common enough in many parts of Europe, but grew tolerable by Time ; and having beeen often reduced to hard Fare in my life, this was not the firft Experiment Ihad made how eafily Nature is fatiffied. And I cannot but obferve, that I never had one hour's Sicknefs, while Iftaid in this Ifland. 'Tis true, I fometimes made a Thife to catel a Rabbet, or Bird, by Springes made of Taboos Hairs, and I oftem gathered wholerome Herbs, which I boiled, or eat as Sallades with my Bread, and now andthen, for a Rarity, I made ia little Butter, and drank the Whey. I was at firt at a great lofs for Salt ; but Cuftom foon reconciled the want of it; and I anm confident that the frequent ufe of Salt among us, is an effeat of Luxury, and was fivt introduced only as a Provocative to drink; except where it is neceffary for preferving of Flefh in long $\qquad$

the Houyhninms. i8

Voyages, or in Places remotev from great Markets. For we obferve no A. nimal to be fond of it but Man: And as to myfelf, when I left this Country, it was a great while before I could eno dure the Tafte of it in any thing that I eat.

This is enough to fay upon the fubjeCt of my Dyet, wherewith other Travellers fill their Books, as if the Readers were perfonally concemed, whether we fare well or ill. However, it was neceflary to mention this matter, left the World fhould think it impofible that I could find Suftenance for thee Years in fuch a Country, afid among fuch Inhabitants.

When it grew towards Evening, the Mafter Horfe ordered a Place for me to lodge in; it was but fix yards from the Houfe, and feparated from the Stable of the Yaboos. Here I got fome Straw, and covering myfelf with 186 VOYAGE to my own Cloaths, 』ept very found. But I was in a fhort Time better accommo? dated, as the Readeto fhall know here: after, when I come to treat more particularly about my way of living.

the HouYHNHNMs. 187

 CHAP. III.

The Author fudious to learn the Language, the Houyhnhnm bis Mafter af (f)ts in teaching bim. The Language defcribed. Several Houyhnhnms of Quality come out of Curiofity to See the Author. He gives bis Mafter a Bort Account of his Voyage.

MY principal Endeavour was to learn the Language, which my Mafter (for fo I fhall henceforth call him) and his Children, and every Servant of his Houfe were defirous to teach me. For they looked upon it as a Prodigy, that a brute Animal fhould difcover fuch Marks of a rational Creature I pointed to every thing and enquired the name of it, which I wrote down

IN feaking, they pronounce through the Nofe and Throat, and their Language approaches nearef to the High. Dutch or German, of any I know in Europe; but is much more graceful and fignificant. The Emperor Charles V. made almoft the fame Obfervation, when he faid, That if he were to fpeak to his Horle, it fhould be in High-Datch.

THE Curiofity and Impatience of my Mafter were fo great, that he fpent many hour's of his leifure to inftrut me. He was convinced (as he afterwards told me) that I mult be a rabo, but my Teachablenefs, Civility, and Cleanlinefs aftonifhed him ; wlich were Qualities altogether fo oppofite to thare

the Houynnenms. 189

 thofe Animals. He was mof perplexed about my Cloaths, reafoning fometimes with himfelf, whether they were a part of my Body ; for I never pulled them of till the Family cwere afleep, and got them on before they waked in thé Morning. My Maftet was eager to learn from whence I came, how I acquired thofe appearances of Reafon, which I difeovered in all my Actionis, and to know my Stony from my own Mouth; which he hoped he fhould foon do by the great Proficiency I made in learning and pronouncing their Words and Sentences. To help my Memory, I formed all H learned into the Eugli/h Alphaber, andzwrit the Words down with the Tranflations. This laft, after fome time, I ventured to do in my Mafter's prefence. It coft me much trouble to explain to him what I was doing ; for the Inhabitants have niot the leaft Idea of Books and Litefature: bailqg:- art imm basflobausIn

- In about ten Weeks time I was able to underftand moft of his Queftions, and in three Months could give him fome tolerable Anfwers. He was extremely curious to know from what part of the Country I came, and how I was taught to imitate a rational Creature, becaufe the Yaboos, (whom he faw I exactly refembled in my Head, Hands, and Face, that were only vifible, , with fome appearance of Cunning, and the ftrongeft difpofition to Mirchief, were obferved to be the moft unteachable of all Brutes. I anfwered, That I came over the Sea from a far Place, with many others of my own kind, in a great hollow veffel made of the bodies of Trees. That my Companions forced me to land on this Coaft, and then left me to fhift for myfelf. It was with fome difficulty, and by the help of many Signs, that I brought him to underfand me. He replied, That I muft needs be miftaken, or that I faid

the Houyhnhnms. r9I

 the Thing which was not. (For they have no Word in their Language to exprefs Lying or Falfehood.) He knew it was impoffible, that there could be a Country beyond the Sea, or that a parcel of Brutes could move a wooden Veffel whither they pleafed upon Water. He was fure no Honybnbnm alive could make fuch a Veffel, nor would truft Yaboos to manage it.The Word Houybnbum, in their Tongue, fignifies a Horfe, and in its Etymology, The Perfection of Nature. I told my Mafter, that I was at a lofs for Expreffion, but would improve as faft as I could; and hoped in a fhort time I fhould be able to tell him Wonders: He was pleafed to direct his own Mare, his Colt and Fole, and the Servants of the Family to take all Opportunities of inftructing me, and every Day for two or three Hours, he was ${ }_{a}$ t the fame Pains himfelf: Several Horfes and Mares of Quality in the Neighbourhood igi JA Voyage to Neighbourhood came often to our houfé upon the Report fpread of a wonderful raboo, that could fpeak like a Hoyy. bubum, and feemed in his Words and Actions to difcover fome glimmerings of Reafon, There delighted to converfe with me; ; they put many Queftions, and received fuch Anfwers, as I was able to return. By all thefe Advantages, I made fo great a progrefs, that in five Months from my Arrival, I underftood whatever was folke, and could exprefs myfelf tolerably well.

रो THE Houy hrubums who came to vift my Mafter, lout of a defign of feeing and talking jwith me, could hardly belieye me to be a right Yaboo, becaufe my Body had a different Covering from others of my kind. They were aftonifhed to obferve me without the ufual Hair or Skin, except on my Head, Face, and Hands; but I difcovered that Secret to my Mafter, upon an Accident, which happened about a Fornight beforce: woditgiols I have

the Houyhninms. 193

Thave already told the Reader, that every Night when the Family were gone to bed, it was my Cuftom to ftrip, and cover myfelf with my Cloaths: It happened one Morning early, that my Mafter fent for me, by the fortel Nag, who was his Valet $;$ si when he came, I was faft alleep, my Cloaths fallen off on one fide, and my Shirt above my Wafte I awaked at the Noife he made, and obferved him to deliver his Meffage in fome Diforder; after which he went to my Mafter, and in; a great fright gave him a very confufed Account of what he had feen: This I prefently difcovered; for going as foon as I was dreffed, to pay my Attendance upon his, Honous, he asked me the meaning of what his Servant had keported, that I was not the fame thing when I Alept as I appeared to be at other times; that his Yalet affured bimo fome part of me was white, fome yefory, at deaft not fo white, and fóme brywhy oturos I HAD

194 Vovage to
I had hitherto concealed the Secret of my Drefs, in order to diftinguifh myfelf as much as I could from the cirred Race of Yaboos; but now I found it in vain to do fo any longer. Befides, I confidered, that my Cloaths and Shoes would foon wear out, which already were in a declining Condition, and muft be fupplied by fome Contrivance from the Hides of Yaboos or other Brutes; whereby the whole Secret would be known: I therefore told my Mafer, That in the Country from whence I came, thofe of my kind always covered their Bodies with the Hairs of certain Animals prepared by Art, as well for Decency, as to avoid the Inclemencies of Air both hot and cold; of which, as to my own Perfon I would give him inmediate Conviction, if he pleafed to command me; only defiring his Excufe, if did not expofe thofe Parts that Nature taught is to conceal. He faid my Dif. courfe was all very Itrange, but efpecially

the Houyhnhems. 195

 the laft Part; for he could not underftand why Nature flould teach us to conceal what Nature had given. That neither himfelf nor Family were afhamed of any Parts of their Bodies but however I might do as I pleafed. Whereupon, I firft unbuttoned my Coat, and pulled it off, I did the fame with my Waftecoat; I drew of my Shoes, Stockings and Breeches. I let my Shirt down to my wafte, and drew up the Bottom, fafning it like a Girdle about my middle to hide my nakednefs.M y Mafter obferved the whole Performance with great Signs of Curiofity and Admiration. He took up all my Cloaths in his Paftern, one Piece after another, and examined them diligently; he then ftroaked my Body very gently, and looked round me feveral times, after which he faid, it was plain I muft be a perfect Yaboo; but that I differed very much from the reft of my Species, in the foftnefs, and whitenefs Yol. II.
and Smoothnefs of my Skin, my wane of Hair in feveral Parts of my Body, the Shape and Shortnefs of my Claws behind and before, and my affectation of walking continually on my two linder Feet, He defired to fee no more, and gave me leave to put on my Cloaths again, for I was fhuddering with Cold.
A. I EXPRESSED my uncafinefs at his giving me fo often the Appellation of Taboo, an odious Animal, for which I had fo utter an Hatred and Contempt. I begged he would forbear applying that Word to me, and take the fame Order in his Fanily, and among his Friends whom he fuffered to fee me, I requefted likewife, that the Secret of having a falfe covering to my Body might be known to none but himeflf, at leaft as long as my prefent Cloathing flould laft; for, as to what the Sorrel Nag his Valet had obferved, his Honour might command him to conceal it.

the Houyhnanms. 197

Ale this my Mafter very graciounly confented to, and thus the Secret was kept till my Cloaths began to wear out, which I was forced to fupply by feveral Contrivances, that fiall hereafter be mentioned. In the mean time, he defired I would go on with my utmof Diligence to learn their Language, bel caufe he was more aftonifhed at min Caz pacity for Speech and Reafon, than at the Figure of my Body, whether it were covered or no; adding, that he waited with fome Impatience to freaif the Wonders which I promifed to tell him.

From thenceforward he doubled the Pains he had been at to inftruet me; he brought me into alt Company, and made them treat me with Civility, becaufe, as he told them privately, this would put me into good Humour, and make me more diyerting.

Pi EVERX

Every Day when I waited on him, befide the Trouble he was at in teaching he would ask me feveral Queftions concerning rayfelf, which I anfwered as well as I could; and by theie means he had already received fome general Ideas, though very imperfect. It would be tedions to relate the feveral Steps, by which I advanced to a mofe regular Converfation: But the firf Account I gave of myfelf in any Order and Length, was to this purpofe:

That I came from a very far Country, as I had already attempted to tell him with about fifty more of my own Specics; that we travelled upon the Seas, in a great hollow Vefiel made of Wood, and larger than lis Honour's Houfe. I defcribed the Ship zo him in the beft terms I could, and explained by the help of my Handkerchief difplayed, how it was driven forward

the HOUYHNHNMS.

 199 ward by the Wind That upon a Quarrel among us, I was fet on flote on this Coaft, where I walked forward without knowing whither, till he delivered me from the Perfecution of thofe execrable Yaboos. He asked me, who made the Ship, and how it was poffible that the Houybnhrimis of my Country would leave it to the Managementiof Brutes? My Anfwer was, that I durft proceed no farther in my Relation, unlefs he would give me his Word and Honour that he would not be offended, and then I would tell him the Wonders I had fo often promifed. He agreed; and I went on by affuring him, that the Ship was made by Creatures like myfelf, who in all the Countries I had travelled, as well as in my own, were the only governing, rational Animals; and that upon my Arrival hither, I was as much aftonifhed to fee the Houybnbums act like rational Beings, as he or his Friends could be in finding fome Marks of Reafon in aGrexture he was pleafed to call a Yaboo, to which I owned my Refemblance in every Part, but could not account for their degenerate and brutal Nature. I faid farther, that if good Fortune ever Feftored me to my native Country, to relate my Travels hither, as I refolved to do, every body would believe that I faid the Thing which was not; that I invented the Story out of my own Head; and with all poffible Refpect to himflf, his Family, and Friends, and under his Promife of not being offended, our Countrymen would hardly think it pro. bable, thiat a Houybnhum fhould be the prefiding Creature of a Nation, and a

the HOUYHNHNMS. 201,

CHAPIV.
The Houyhnhnms Notion of Truthe and Fallhood. The Author's Difcomrere difapproved by bis Mafler. The Author gives a more particular Account of bimfelf, and the Accidents of this Voyage.

MY Mafter heard me with great appearances of Uneafinefs in his Countenance, becaufe doubting or not believing, are fo little known in this Country, that the Inhabitants cannot tell how to behave themfelves under fuch Circumftances. And I remember in frequent Difcourfes with my Mafter concerning the Nature of Manhood, int other Parts of the World, having occa-

$$
\text { wond } \quad P_{4} \quad \text { fion }
$$

202 A VOYAGE to
fion to talk of Lying, and falfe Repre fentation, it was with much Diffculty that he comprehended what I meant, although he had otherwife a moft acute Judgment. For he argued thus: That the ufe of Speech was to make us underftand one another, and to receive Information of Facts; now if any one faid the Tbing wbich was not, thofe Ends were defeated ; becaufe I cannot properly be faid to underftand him, and I am fo far from receiving Information, that he leaves me worfe than in Ignorance, for I am led to believe a. Thing black when it is white, and fbort when it is long. And thefe were all the Notions he had concerning that Faculty of Lying, fo perfectly well underfood among human Creatures, z7s cothonits 30 mans admatidarlal oilt 36fis s (ynmes) T2 To return fiom this Digreffion, - when I afferted that the Pibsoos were the only governing Animals in my Country, which my Mafter faid was altogether paft his Conception, he defired to noit +I know

the Houyhnhims. 203

 know whether we had Horigbibinms a-1 mong us, and what wás their Employment : I told him, we had great Numbers, that in Summer they grazed in the Fields, and in Winter were kept in houres, with Hay and Oats, when-Yaboo-Servants were employed to rub their Skins fmooth, comb their Manes? pick their Feet, ferve them with Food, and make their Beds. I underftan el you well, faid my Mafter, it is now very plain, from all you have fpoken, that whatever fhare of Reafon the $\mathrm{ra}_{a}$. hoos pretended to, the Honybnibnms are your Mafters; I heartily wifh our $\mathrm{ra}_{\mathrm{a}}$ hoos would be fo tractable. I begged his Honour would pleafed to excufe me from proceeding any farther, becaure I was very certain that the Account he expected from me would be highly difpleafing. But he infifted in commanding me to let him know: the beft and the worft: I told him, he fhould be obeyed. I owned, that the Houybrbnoms among us, whom we cals led204 A Voyage to led Horfes, were the moft generous and comely 'Animal we had, that they ed. celled in frength and fwiftnefs; and when they belonged to Perfons of Quality, employed in travelling, racing, or drawing Chariots, they/ were treated with much Kindness and Care, till they fell into Difeafes, or became foundred in the Feet; and then they were fold, and ufed to all kind of Drudgery till they died; after which their Skins were ftripped and fold for what they were worth, and their Bodies left to be devoured by Dogs and Birds of prey: But the common race of Horfes had fiot fo good fortune, being kept by Farmers and Carriers and other mean Peóple, who put them to greater laboar, and feed them worfe. I defcribed as well uas I could, our way of tiding, the flape and ufe of a Bridle, a Saddle, ai Spur, and a: Whip, of Harnels and Whieelse I added, that we faftned Plates of a certain hard fubftance calk led Iron at the bottom of their Feet,

the Houyhnhnms. 20s

to preferve their Hoofs from being brot ken by the ftony ways on which we often travelled.

My Mafter, after fome Expreffions of great Indignation, wondered how we dared to venture upon a Houybnbnm's back, for he was fure, that the meaneft Servant in his Houfe would be able to fhake of the ftrongef Yaboo, or by lying down, and rouling on his back, fqueeze the Brute to death. - I anfwered, That our Horfes were trained up from three our four Years old to the feveral ufes we intended them for; That if any of them proved intolerably vicious, they were employed for Carriages; that they were feverely beaten while they were young, for any mifchievous tricks: That the Males, defigned for common ufe of Riding or Draught, were generally caftrated about two Years after their birth, to take down their Spirits, and make them more tame and gentle; that they were indeed fensils
fible

206 A VOYAGE to
fible of Rewards and Punifhments; but his Honour would pleafe to confider, that they had not the leaft tincture of Reafon any more than the raboos in this Country.

Ir put me to the pains of many Circumlocutions to give my Mafter a right Idea of what I fpoke; for their Language doth not abound in variety of Words, becaufe their Wants and Paffions are fewer than among us. But it is impoffible to repeat his noble Refentment at our favage Treatment of the Houybnbnm race, particularly af: ter I had explained the manner and ufe of caftrating Hoffes among us, to hinder them from propagating their kind, and to render them more fervile. He faid, if it were poffible there could be any Country where Yaboos alone were endued with Reafon, they certainly muft be the governing Animal, becaufe Reafon will in time always prevail againft brutal Strength. But, confidering

the Houyhnhems. 207

 the Frame of our Bodies, and efpecially of mine, he thought no Creature of equal Bulk was fo ill contrived, for employing that Reafon in the commonOffice of Life; whereupon he defired to know, whether thofe among whom I lived, refémbled me or the Yaboos of his Country. I affured him, that I was as well Thaped as moft of my Age: but the younger and the Females were much more foft and tender, and the Skins of the latter generally as white as Milk. He faid, I differed indeed from other Yaboos, being much more cleanly, and not altogether fo deformed, but in point of real Advantage, he thought I differed for the worfe. That my Nails were of no Ufe either to my fore or hinder-feet: As to my Fore-feet he could not properly call them by that Name, for he never obferved me to walk upon them; that they were too foft to bear the Ground; that I generally went with them uncovered, neither was the Covering I fometimes woreon them, of the fame Sliape, or fof frong as that on my Feet behind. That I could not walk with any Security, for if either of my Hinder-feet flipped, 1 muft inevitably fall. He then began to find fault with other Parts of my Body, the Flatnefs of my Face, the Prominence of my Nofe, mine Eyes placed direetly in the Front, fo that I could not look on either fide without turning my Head: That I was not able to feed myfelf, without lifting my. Fore-feet to my Mouth: And therefore Nature had placed thofe Joynts to anfwer that Necefity. He knew not what could be the Ufe of thofe feveral Clefts and Divifions in my Feet behind, that thefe were too foft to bear the Hardness and Sharp. nefs of Stones without a Covering made from the Skin of fome othef Brute; that my whole Body wanted a Fence againft Heat and Cold, whick I was forced to put on and off everyDRy with Tedioufnefs and Trouble, And laftly, that he obferved every Animal in this Country naturally to abhor the Ya boos, whom the Weaker avoided, and the Stronger drove from them. So that fuppofing us to have the Gift of Reafon, he could not fee how it were poffible to cure that natural Antipathy which everyCreature difoovered againft us; nor confequently, how we could tame, and render them ferviceable. However, he would (as he raid) debate the Matter no farther, becaufe he was more defirous to know my own Story, the Country where I was born, and the feveral Actions and Events of my Life before I came hither.

$$
\text { the HOUYHNHNMS. } 209
$$

- I ASSURED him, how extremely defirous I was, that he fhould be fatisfied in every Point; but I doubted much, whether it would be poffible for me to explain myfelf on feveral Subjects wheteof his Honour could have no Conception, becaufe I faw nothing in his Country to which I could refemble them That however, I would do my beft, and 210 A Voyage to and ftrive to exprefs myfelf by Similitudes, humbly defiring his Affiftance when I wanted proper Words; which he was pleafed to promife me.

I I said, my Birth was of honeft Pa rents in an Ifland called England, which was remote from this Country, as many Days Journey as the ftrongef of his Honour's Servants could travel in the Annual Courfe of the Sun. That I was bred a Surgeon, whofe Trade is to cure Wounds and Hurts in the Body, got by Accident or Violence; that my Country was governed by a Female Man, whom we called Queen. That I'left it to get Riches, whereby I might maintain myfelf and Family when I fhould return. That in my laft Voyage I was Commander of the Ship, and had about fifty Yaboos under me, many of which died at Sea, and I was forced to fupply them by others picked out from feveral Nations. That our Ship was twice in Danger of being funk; the firf time by a great

the Houynnhms. 2 II

a great Storm, and the fecond, by ftriking againft a Rock. Here my Mafter interpofed, by asking me, how I could perfuade Strangers out of different Countries to venture with me, after the Loffes I had fuftained, and the Hazards I had run. I faid, they were Fellows of defperate Fortunes forced to fly from the Places of their Birth, on account of their Poverty or their Crimes. Some were undone by Law-fuits; others fpent all they had in Drinking, Whoring and Gaming; others fled for Treafon; many for Murder, Theft, Poyfoning, Robbery, Perjury, Forgery, Coining falfe Morey, for committing Rapes or Sodomy, for flying from their Colours, or deferting to the Enemy, and moft of them had broken Prifon; none of there durft return to their Native Countries for fear of being hanged, or of ftarving in a Jail; and therefore were under a neceffity of feeking a Livelihood in other Places.

Vol.II.
Q During

During this Difcourfe, my Mafter was pleafed to interrupt me feveral times; I had made ufe of many Circumlocutions in defcribing to him the nature of the feveral Crimes, for which moft of our Crew had been forced to fly their Country. This Labour took up Reveral Days Converfation before he was able to comprehend me. He was wholly at a Lofs to know what could be the Ufe or Neceflity of practifing thofe Vices. To clear up which I endeavoured to give him fome Ideas of the Defire of Power and Riches, of the terrible Effects of Luft, Intemperance, Malice and Envy. All this I was forced to define and defcribe by putting of Cafes, and making of Suppofitions. After which, like one whofe Imagination was ftruck with fomething never feen or heard of before, he would lift up his Eyes with Amazement and Indignation. Power, Government, War, Law, Punifhment, and a thoufand other Things

the Houyhninms. $\quad 213$

Things had no Terms, wherein that Language could exprefs them, which made the Difficulty almoft infupetable to give my Mafter any Conception of what I meant. But being of an excellent Underftanding much improved by Contemplation and Converfe, he at laft arrived at a competent Knowledge of what humane Nature in our Parts of the World is capable to perform, and defired I would give him fome particular Account of that Land, which we call Europe, but efpecially of my own Country:

C H A P.

(The Author at bis Mafler's Command iuforms bim of the State of England. The Caufes of Wax among the Princes of Europe. The Author begins to explain the Englifh Confitution.

THE Reader may pleafe to obferve, that the following Extract of many Converfations I had with my Mafter, contains a Summary of the moft material Points, of which were difcourfed at feveral times for above two Years; his Honour often defiring fuller Satisfaction as I farther improved in the Houybnbrm Tongue. I laid before him, as well as I could, the whole State of Europe; I difcourfed of Trade and

the Houyhnhnms. 215

and Manufactures, of Arts and Sciences; and the Anfwers I gave to all the Queftions he made, as they arofe upon feveral Subjects, were a Fund of Converfation not to be exhaufted. But I fhall here only fet down the Subftance of what paffed between us concerning my own Country, reducing it into Order as well as I can, without any Regard to Time or other Circumfances, white I ftrictly adhere to Truth. My only Concern is, that I fhall hardly be able to do Juftice to my Mafter's Arguments and Expreffions, which muft needs fuffer by my want of Capacity, as well as by a Tranflation into our barbarous Englifh.

In Obedience therefore to his Honour's Commands, I related to him the Revolution under the Prince of Orange, the long War with France entered into by the faid Prince, and renewed by his Succeffor the prefent Queen, wherein the greatef Powers of Chriftendom were

$$
Q_{3} \text { engaged, }
$$

$216 \quad A$ Voyage to
engaged, and which ftill continued: I computed at his Requeft, that about a Million of Yaboos might have been killed in the whole Progrefs of it, and perhaps a hundred or more Cities taken, and thrice as many Ships bufnt or funk.

He asked me what were the ufual Caufes or Motives that made one Country go to War with another. I anfwered they were innumerable, but I fhould only mention a few of the chief, Sometimes the Ambition of Princes, who never think they, have Land or People enough to gavern: Sometimes the Corruption of Minifters, who engage their Mafter in a War, in order to fifle or divert the Clamor of the Subjeets againft their evil Adminiftration. Difference in Opinions hath coft many Millions of Lives: For inftance, whether Flefh be Bread, or Bread be Flefb; whether the Juice of a certain Berry be Blood or Wine; whether Whifling be a Vice or a Virtue; whether it be better to kifs a Poft, or throw it into the Fire; what is the beft Colour for a Coat, whether black, wbite, red or gray; and whether it fhould be long or Short, narrow or wide, dirty or clean, with many more. Neither are any Wars fo furious and bloody, or of fo long Continuance, as thofe occafioned by Difference in Opinion, efpecially if it be in things indifferent.

the HOUYHNHNMS. 217

Sometimes the Quarrel between two Princes is to decide which of them thall difpoffefs a third of his Dominions, where neither of them pretend to any Right. Sometimes one Prince quarrelleth with another, for fear the other fhould quarrel with him. Sometimes a War is entered upon, becaufe the Enemy is too frong, and fometimes becaufe he is too weak. Sometimes our Neighbours want the things which we bave, or bave the things which we want; and we bath fight, till they Q 4 take take ours or give us theirs. It is a very juftifiable Caufe of War to invade a Country after the People have been wafted by Famine, deftroyed by Peftilence, or embroiled by Factions among themfelves. It is juftifiable to enter into War againft our nearef Ally, when one of his Towns lies convenient for us, or a Territory of Land, that would render our Dominions round and compleat. If a Prince fends Forces into a Nation, where the People are poor and ignovant, he may lawfully put half of them to death, and make Slaves of the reft, in order to civilize and reduce them from their barbarous way of Living. I is a very kingly, honourable, and frequent Practice, when one Prince defires the Affiftance of another to fecure him againft an Invafion, that the Affiftant, when he hath driven out the Invader, fhould feize on the Dominions himfelf, and kill, imprifon of banifh the Prince he came to relieve. Alliance by Blood or Marriage, is a frequent

218 Voyage to

the Houyhnhems. 219

frequent Caufe of War between Princes, and the nearer the Kindred is, the greater is their Difpofition to quarrel: Poor Nations are bungry, and rich Nations are proud, and Pride and Hunger will ever be at variance. For thofe Reafons, the Trade of a Soldier is held the moft honourable of all others: Becaufe a Soldier is a Yaboo hired to kill in cold Blood as many of his own Species, who have never offended him, as poffibly he can.

There are likewife another kind of Princes in Europe, not able to make War by themfelves, who hire out their Troops to richer Nations, for fo much a Day to each Man; of which they keep three fourths to themfelves, and it is the beft Part of their Maintenance; fuch are thofe in many Northern Parts of Europe.

What you have told me, (faid my Mafter) upon the Subject of War, does indeed indeed difcover" moft admirably the Effects of that Reafon you pretend to: However, it is happy that the Shame is greater than the Danger; and that Nature hath left you utterly uncapable of doing much Mifchief.

220 A Voyage to

For four Mouths lying flat with your Faees, you can hardly bite each o. ther to any purpofe, unles by Confent. Then as to the Claws upon your Feet Wefore and behind, they are fo fhort and tender that one of our Yaboos would drive a dozen of yours before him. And therefore in recounting the Numbers of thofe who have been killed in Battle, I cannot but think that you have faid the tbing that is not,

I cout not forbear fhaking my Head, and fmiling a little at his Ignorance. And being no Stranger to the Art of War, I gave him a Defription of Cannons, Culverins, Muskets, Carabines, Piftols, Bullets, Powder, Swords, Bayonetts,

the Houyhnhms. 22 I

Bayonets, Sieges, Retreats, Attacks, Undermines, Countermines, Bombardments, Sea-fights; Ships funk with a thoufand Men, twenty Thoufand killed on each Side; dying Groans, Limbs flying in the Air, Smoak, Noife, Confufion, trampling to death under Horfes Feet; Flight, Purfuit, Victoty; Fields ftrewed with Carcafes left for Food to Dogs, and Wolves, and Birds of Prey; Plundering, Stripping, Ravifhing, Burning, and Deftroying. And to fet forth the Valour of my own dear Countrymen, I affured him, that I had feen them blow up a hundred Enemies at once in a Siege, and as many in a Ship, and beheld the dead Bodies come down in pieces from the Clouds, to the great Diverfion of the Spectators.

I was going on to more particulars, when my Mafter commanded me Silence. He faid, whoever underftood the Nature of Yaboos might eafily believe it poffible for fo vile an Animal,

222 A Voyage to
to be capable of every Action I had named, if their Strength and Cunning equalled their Malice. But as my Difcourfe had increafed his Abhorrence of the whole Species, fo he found he gave him a Difturbance in his Mind, to which he was wholly a Stranger before. He thought his Ears being ufed to fuch abominable Words, might by Degrees admit them with lefs Deteftation, That although he hated the raboos of this Country, yet he no more blamed them for their odious Qualities, than he did a Ginnayh (a Bird of Prey) for its Cruelty, or a fharp Stone for curting my Hoof. But when a Creature pretending to Reafon, could be capable of fuch Enormities, he dreaded left the Corruption of that Faculty might be worfe than Brutality it felf. He feemed therefore confident, that inftead of Reafon, we were only poffeffed of fome Quality fitted to increafe our natural Vices; as the Reflection from a troubled Stream returns the Image of an

the Houyhnhnms. 223

ill-fhapen Body, not only larger, but more diforted.

He added, That he had heard too much upon the fubject of War, both in this, and fome former Difcourfes. There was another point which a little perplexed him at prefent. I had informed him, that fome of our Crew left their Country on account of being ruined by Lawe; that I had already explained the meaning of the Word; but he was at a lofs how it fhould come to pafs, that the Law which was intended for every Man's prefervation, flould be any Man's ruin. Therefore he defired to be farther fatisfied what I meant by Larw, and what fort of Dif penfers thereof it could be by whofe practices the Property of any Perfon could be loft, inftead of being preferved. He added, he faw not what great occafion there could be for this thing called Larv, fince all the Intentions and Purpofes of it may be fully anfwered by following the Dictates of Nature and Reafor, which are fufficient Guides for a reafonable Animal, as we pretended to be, in fhewing us what we ought to do, and what to avoid.

224 Voyage to

I assured his Honour, that Law was a Science wherein I had not much converfed, having little more Knowledge of it than what I had obtained by employing Advocates, in vain, upon fome Injuftices that had been done me, and by converfing with fome others who by the fame method had firf loft their Subftance, and then left their own Country under the mortification of fuch Difappointments, however I would give him all the Satisfaction I was able.

I said, That thofe who made profeffion of this Science were exceedingly multiplied, being almoft equal to the Caterpillars in number; that they were of divers Degrees, Diftinctions, and Denominations. The numeroufnels of thofe thofe that dedicated themfelves to this Profeflion were fuch that the fair and juftifiable Advantage and Income of the Profeffion was not fufficient for the decent and handfome Maintenance of multitudes of thofe who followed it. Hence it came to pafs that it was found needful to fupply that by Artifice and Cunning, which could not be procured by juft and honeft methods: The better to bring which about, very many Men among us were bred up from their Youth in the Art of proving by Words multiplied for the purpofe that white is black, and black is white, according as they are paid. The greatnefs of thefe Mens Affurance and the Boldnefs of their Pretenfions gained upon the Opinion of the Vulgar, whom in a manner they made Slaves of, and got into their hands much the larger Share of the practice of their Profeffion. Thefe Practitioners were by Men of difcernment called Pettifooggers, (that is, Confounders, or rather, Deftrojensof Right,

the Houyhnanms. 225

226 Voyage to
as it was my ill hap, as well as the misfortune of my fuffering Acquaintance, to be erigaged only with this fpecies of the Profeffion. I defired his Ho. nour to underftand the defcription I had to give, and the ruin I had complained of, to relate to thefe Sectaries only, and how and by what means the Misfortunes we met with were brought upon us by the management of thefe Men, might be more eafly conceived by explaining to him their method of proceeding, which could not be better done than by giving him an Example.

M x Neighbour, faid I, I will fuppofe, has a mind to my Cow, he hires one ofthefe Advocates to prove that he ought to have my Cow from me. I muft then hire andther of them to defend my Right, it being againft all rules of Law that any Man fhould be allowed to fpeak for himfelf. Now in this cafe, I who am the right Owner lie under two great Difadvantages. Firft, my Advocate, being as I faid before practifed almoft from hist Cradle in defending Fallhood, is quite out of his Element when he would ar-: gue for Right, which as an Office unnatural he attempts with great Awk-s wardnefs, if not with an Ill-will. The fecond Difadvantage is that my Advocate muft proceed with great Caution 3 for, fince the Maintenance of fo many depend on the keeping up of Bufinefs, fhould he proceed too fummarily, if he does not incur the Difpleafure of his Superiors, he is fure to gain the IIl-will and Hatred of his Brethren, as being by them efteemed one that would leffen the Practice of the Law. This being the Cafe; I have but two Methods to preferve my Cow. The firft is, to gain over my Adverfary's Advocate with a double Fee; from the Manner and Defign of whofe Education before mentioned it is eafy to expect he will be induced to drop his Client, and let the Balance fall to my Side. The fecond Way is for my Advocate not to Vol.II.

$$
\text { the HOUYHNHNMS. } \quad 227
$$

$R$ infift
$228 \quad A$ Voyage to infift on the Juittice of my Caufe, by allowing the Cow to belong to my Adverfary; and this if it be dexteroufly and skiffully done will go a geat Way towatds obtainling a favourable Verdit, it laving been foutind, from a careful Obfervation of Iflues and Events, that the wrong Side, tinder the Management of fuch Practitioners, has the fairer Chance for fuccers; and this more ef. pecially if it happens, as it did in mine and my Friend's Cafe, and may have done fince, that the Perfon appointed to decide all Controverfies of Propriety as well as for the Tryal of Criminals, who flould be taken out of the moft knowing and wife of his Profeflion, is by the Reedrmmendation of a great Favourife, or Court-Miftrels chofen out of thie Sect before mentioned, and fo, having been under a frange Bials all His Tife againtt Equity and falr dealing, lies as it were under a fatal Necelifty of favouring, fififting, double dealing and opprefion, and befides through

the Houyhnhnms.

Age, Infirmity, and Diftempers grown lazy, unactive, and inattentive, and thereby almoft incapacitated frome doing any thing becoming the Nature of his Imployment, and the Duty of his Office. In fuch Cafes, the Decifions and Determinations of Men fo bred, and fo qualified, may with Reafon be expected on the wrong side of the Caufe, fince thofe who can take Harangue and Noife, (if purfued with Warmth, and drawn out into a Length, ) for reafoning, are not much to be wondered at, if they infer the Weight of the Argument from the Heavinefs of the Pleading.

Ir is a Maxim among thefe Men, That whatever has been done before may legally be done again: And therefore they take fpecial Care to record all the Decifions formerly made, even thofe which have through Ignotance or Corruption contradicted the Rules of common Juftice, and the general Reafon of Mankind. Thefe, under the Name of Precedents, they produce as Authorities, and thereby endeavour to juftify the moft iniquitous Opinions; and they are fo lucky in this Practice, that it tarely fails of Decrees anfwerable to their Intentiand Expectation.

230 A Voyage io

IN pleading, they ftudioully avoid entring into the Merits of the Caule; but are louid, violent and tedious in dwelling upon all Circumffances which are not to the Purpofe. For Inflance, in the Cafe already mentioned; they never defire to know what Claim or Title my Adverfary had to my Cow, but whether the faid Cow were red or black, her Horns long or fhort; whether the Field I graze her in be round or fquare, whether fhe was milked at home or abroad, what $D$ feafes the is fubject to, and the like; after which they confult Precedents, adjourn the Caufe, from time to time,

the HOLYHNHNMs. 231

and in ten, twenty, or thirty $\mathbf{Y}$ ears, come to an Iffue.

It is likewife to be obferved, that this Society hath a peculiar Cant and Jargon of their own, that no other Mortal can underftand, and wherein all their Laws are written, which they take fpecial Care to multiply ; whiereby they have gone near to Confound the very Effence of Truth and Fallehood, of Right and Wrong; fo that it may take thirty Years to decide whether the Field, left me by my Anceftors for fix Gencrations, belongs to me or to a Stranger three hundred Miles off.

In the Tryal of Perfons acculed for Crimes againft the State, the Method is much more fhort and commendable: For if thofe in Power, who know well how to chufe Inftruments fit for their Purpofe, take care to recommend and promote out of this Clan a proper Perw 14

R 3
fon, $23^{2}$ A Vovage to fon, his Method of Education and Pra* Ctice makes it eafy to him, when his Patron's Difpofition is underftood, without Difficulty or Stady either to condemn or acquit the Criminal, and at the fame time ftrietly preferve all due Forms of Laxw.
-Her e my Mafter interpofing faid it was a Pity, that Creatures endowed with fuch prodigious Ablilities of Mind as thefe Advocates by the Defription I gave bf them muft certainly be, were not frather encouraged to be Inftruccors of ottlers in Wiffom and Knowtedge. In anfwer to which I affured his Honour that the Bufinefs and Study of their own Calling and Profeffion fo took up all their Thoughts and engroffed all their Timie, that they minded nothing celfe, and that therefore, in all points lout of their own Trade, many of them were of fol great Ignorafice fand Stupidity, that it wwas hard to piok out of any Profeflion a Generation of (IIO)

the Houyhnhings. 233

Men more defpicable in common Converfation, or who were fo much looked upon as avowed Enemies to all Knowledge and Learning, being equally difpofed to pervert the general reafon of Mankind in every other fubject of Difcourfe, as in that of their own calling.

A Continuation of the State of Eng: land; so well governed by a Queen as to need no firft Minifter. The Character of fuch an one in fome European Courts.

MY Mafter was yet wholly at a lofs to underftand what Motive could incite this Race of Lawyers to perplex, difquiet, and weary themfelves, and engage in a Confederacy of Injuftice, merely for the fake of injuring their Fellow-Animals; neither could he comprehend what I meant in faying they did it for Hire. Whereupon I was at much pains to decribe to him the ufe of Money, the Materials it was made of, and the value of the Metals, that when a raboo had got a great ftore of this precious Subftance, he was able to purchafe whatever he had a mind to, the fineft Cloathing, the nobleft Houfes, great Tracts of Land, the mof coftly Meats and Drinks, and have his choice of the moft beautiful Females. Therefore fince Money alone, was able to perform all thefe feats, our Yaboos thought, they could never have enough of it to feend or to fave, as they found themfelves inclined from their natural bent cither to Profufion or Avarice. That the rich Man enjoyed the fruit of the poor Man's Labour, and the latter were a thoufand to one in proportion to the former. That the bulk of our People were forced to live miferably, by labouring every Day for fmall Wages to make a few live plentifully. I enlarged myfelf much on thefe and many other particulars to the fame purpofe: But his Honour was ftill to feek: For he went upon a fuppofition that

the Houyhninms. 235

$$
23^{6} \quad A \text { Voyage to }
$$

that all Animals had a title to their fhare in the Productions of the Earth, and efrecially thofe who prefided over the reft. Therefore he defired I would let him know, what thefe cofly Meats were, and how any of us happened to want them. Whereupon I enumerated as many forts as came into my head, with the various methods of deefing them, which could not be done with. out fending Veffels by Sea to every part of the World, as well for Liquors to drink, as for Sauces, and innumeras. ble other Conveniencies. I affured him, that this whole Globe of Earth mult be at leaft three times gone found, before one of our better female Yaboos could get her Breakfaft, or a Cup to put it in. He faid, That muft needs be a miferable Country which cannot furnifh Food for its own Inhabitants. But what he chiefly wondered at, was, how fuch vaft tratts of Grounds ss I defribed flould be wholly withoute frefb Water, and the People put to the Neceffity of lending over the Sea for Drink. I replied, that England (the dear Place of my Nativity) was computed to produce three times the quantity of Food, more than its Inhabitants are able to confume, as well as Liquors extracted from Grain, or preffed out of the Fruit of certain Trees, which made excellent Drink, and the fame Proportion in every other Convenience of Life. But in order to feed the Luxury and Intemperance of the Males, and the Vanity of the Fernales, we fent away the greateft Part of bur neceeflary Things to other Countries, from whence in retuwn we brought the Materials of Difeares, Folly and Vice, to fpend among ourfelves. Hence it follows of NeceefliIty, that vaft Numbers of our People are compelled to feek their Livelihood by Begging, Robbing, Stealing, Cheating, Pimping, Forfwearing, Flattering, Suborning, Forging, Gaming, Lying, Fawning, Hectoring, Noting, Scribling, Stargazing, Poyfoning, Whoring, Cant-嘘 6

$23^{8}$ A Voyage to
ing, Libelling, Free-thinking, and the like Occupations: Every one of which Terms, I was at much Pains to make him underftand.

That Wine was not imported a. mong us from foreign Countries, tof fup. ply the want of Wate: ov other Drinks, but becaure it was a fort of Liquidwhich made us merry, by putting us out of our Senfes; diverted all melancholy Thoughts, begat wild extravagant Ina: ginations in the Brain, raied our Hopes, and banifhed our Fears, fit fpended every Office of Reafon for a time, and deprived us of the Ufe of our Limbs, till we fell into a profound Sleep; although it muft be confeffed, that we always awaked fick and difpirited, and that the Ufe of this Liquor filled us with Difeafes, which made our Lives uncomrfortable and fhort.

But befide all this, the Bulk of our People fupported themfelves by furnith.

the Houyhnhems. 239

 ing the Neceffities and Conveniencies of Life to the Rich, and to each other. For inftance, when I am at home and dreffed as I ought to be, I carry on my Body the Workmanfhip of an hundred Tradefmen ; the Building and Furniture of my Houfe employ as many more, and five times the Number to adorn my Wife.I was going on to tell him of another fort of People, who get their Livelihood by attending the Sick, having upon fome occafions informed his Honour that many of my Crew had died of Difeafes. But here it was with the utmoft Difficulty, that I brought him to apprehend what I meant. He could eafily conceive, that a Houybnbrm grew weak and heavy a few Days before his Death, or by fome Accident might hurt a Limb. But that Nature, who works all things to Perfection, fhould fuffer any Pains to breed in our Bodies, he thought it impoffible, and defired to know the reafon

240 A Voyage to reafon of fo unaccountable an Evil. I told him, we fed on a thourand Things which operated the one contrary to each otherg that we eat when we were not hungry, and drank without the Provocation of Thirft; That we fate whole Nights drinking ftrong Liquors witho out eating a Bit, which difpofed us to Sloth, enflamed our Bodies, and precipitated or prevented Digeftion. That proftitute Female Yaboos acquired a certain Malady, which bred Rottennefs in the Bones of thofe, who fell into their Embraces; That this and many other Difeafes, were propagated from Father to Son, fo that great Numbers come into the World with complicated Maladies upon them; that it would be endlefs to give him a Catalogue of all Difeafes incident to humane Bodies; for they could not be fewer than five or fix hundied, fpread over every Limb, and Joynt; in fhort, every Part, externa! and inteftine, having Difeafes appropria. ted to them. To remedy which, there was a fort of People bred up among us, in the Profeffion or Pretence of curing the Sick. And becaufe I had fome Skill in the Faculty, I would in Gratitude to his Honour, let him know the whole Myftery and Method by which they proceed.

the Houyhnhnms. 241

Their Fundamental is, That all Difeafes arife from Repletion, from whenice they conclude, that a great Evacuation of the Body is neceffary, either through the natural Paffage, or upwards at the Mouth. Their next Bufinefs is, from Herbs, Minerals, Gums, Oyls, Shells, Salts, Juices, Seaweed, Excrements, Barks of Trees, Serpents, Toads, Frogs, Spiders, dead Mens Flefh and Bones, Beafts and Fifhes, to form a Compolition for Smell and Tafte the moft abominable, naufeous and deteftable, they can poffibly contrive, which the Stomach immediately rejects with loathing; and this they call a Vomit; or elle from the fame Store-

242 A Voyage to Store-houfe, with fome other poyfonouis Additions, they command us to take in at the Orifice above or below, (juift as the Phyfician then happens to be difpo: fed) a Medicine equally annoying and difguffull to the Bowels, which rex laxing the Belly, drives down all before it, and this they call a Purge, or a Glyfer. For Nature (as the Pliyficians alledge) having intended the fuperior anterior Orifice only for the Intromiflion of Solids and Liquids, and the inferior for Ejection, thefe Artifts ingenioully confidering, that in all Difeafes Nature is forced out of her Seat; therefore to re* place her in it, the Body muff be treated in a manner directly contrary, by interchanging the Ufe of each Orifice, forcing Solids and Liquids in at the $A$. mus, and making Evacuations at the Mouth.

But, befides real Difeafes, we are fubject to many that are onily imagina. ry, for which the Phyficians have invented the Houy
vented imaginary Cures; thefe have their feveral Names, and fo have the Drugs that are proper for them, and with thefe our Female Yaboos are always infefted.

One great Excellency in this Tribe is their Skill at Prognofticks, wherein they feldom fail; their Predictions in real Difeafes, when they rife to any De gree of Malignity, generally portending Death, which is always in their Power when Recovery is not: And therefore, upon any unexpected Signs of Amendment, after they have pronounced their Sentence, rather than be accufed as falfe Prophets, they know how to approve their Sagacity to the World by a feafonable Dofe.

They are likewife of fecial Ufe to Husbands and Wives, who are grown weary of their Mates, to eldef Sons, to great Minifters of State, and often to Princes.

$$
\text { Vol.II. } \quad \mathrm{S} \text { I HAD }
$$

I had formerly upon occafion difcourfed with my Mafter upon the Na ture of Government in general, and particularly of our own excellent Confithtion, defervedly the Wonder and Envy of the whole World. But having here accidentally mentioned a Miniter of State; he commanded me fome time affer to inform him, what Species of $Y_{a}$. boos I particularly meant by that Ap. plication.

I told him, that our She Governor or Queen having no Ambition to gratify, no Inclination to fatisfy of extend. ing her Power to the Injury of her Neighbours, or the Prejudice of her own Subjects, was therefore fo far from needing a corrupt Miniftry to carry on or cover any finifter Defigns, that fhe not only directs her own Actions to the Good of her People, conducts them by the Direction, and reftrains them within the Limitation of the Laws of ## the Houxhnhims. 245

lier own Country; but fubmits the Behaviour and Acts of thofe fle intrufts with the Adminiftration of her Affairs to the Examination of her great Council, and fubjects them to the Penalties of the Law; and therefore never puts any fuch Confidence in aniy of her Subjects as to entruft them with the whole and entire Adminiftration of her Af. fairs: But I added, that in fome former Reigns here, and in many other Courts of Europe now, where Princes grew indolent and carelefs of their own Affairs through a conftant Love and Purfuit of Pleafure, they made ufe of fuch an Adminiftrator, as I had mentioned, under the Title of firft or chief $M_{i}$ nifter of State, the Defcription of which, as far as it may be collected not only from their Actions, but from the Letters, Memoirs, and Writings publifhed by themfelves, the Truth of which has not yet been difputed, may be allowed to be as follows: That he is a Perfon wholly exempt from Joy S 2
and

246 Voyage to
and Grief, Love and Hatred, Pity and Anger; at leaft makes ufe of no other Paffions but a violent Defire of Wealth, Power and Titles; That he never tells Words to all Ufes, except to the Indication of his Mind; That he never tells a Truth; but with an Intent that you fhould take it for a Lye; nor a Lye, but with a Defign that you fhould take it for a Trutb; That thofe he fpeaks worft of behind their Backs, are in the fureft Way to Preferment; and whenever he begins to praife you to others or to yourfelf, you are from that Day forlorn. The worft Mark you can receive is a Promife, efpecially when it is confirmed with an Oath; after which every wife Man retires, and gives over all Hopes.

There are three Methods by which a Man may rife to be chief Minifter: The firft is, by knowing how with prudence to difpofe of a Wife, a Daughter, or a Sifter: The fecond, by betraying or undel-

the Houyhninms. 247

 undermining his Predeceffor: And the third is by a furious Zeal in publick Affemblies againft the Corruptions of the Courr. But a wife Prince would rather chufe to employ thofe who practife the laft of thefe Methods; becaufe fuch Zealots prove always the moft obfequious and fubfervient to the Will and Paffions of their Mafter. That thefe Miniflers laving all Employments at their Difpofal, preferve themfelves in Power by bribing the Majority of a Senate or great Council; and at laft by an ACt of Indemnity (whereof I defcribed the Nature to him) they fecured themfelves from After-reckonings, and retired from the Publick, laden with the Spoils of the Nation.The Palace of a Chief Minifter, is a Seminary to breed up others in his own Trade: The Pages, Lacquies, and Porter, by imitating their Mafter, become Minifters of State in their feve. ral Diftritts, and learn to excel in the

$$
\mathrm{S}_{3} \quad \text { three }
$$

248 Voyage to
three principal Ingredients, of Info. Lence, Lying, and Bribery. According. 1y, they have a Subaltern Court paid to them by Perfons of the beft Rank, and fometimes by the Force of Dexterity and Impudence, arrive through feveral Gradations to be Succeffors to their Lord.

He is ufually governed by a decayed Wench, or favourite Footman, who are the Tunnels through which all Graces are conveyed, and may properly be called, in the laft Refort, the Governors of the Kingdom.

One Day in Difcourfe my Mafter having heard me mention the Nobility of my Country, was pleafed to make me a Compliment which I could not pretend to deferve: That he was fure, I mult have been born of fome noble Family, becaufe I far exceeded in Shape, Colour, and Cleanliners, all the raboos

$$
\text { the Houyhnhins. } 249
$$

raboos of his Nation, although I feemed to fail in Strength and Agility, which muft be imputed to my different Way of Living from thofe other Brutes; and befides, I was not only endowed with the Faculty of Speech, but likewife with fome Rudiments of Reafon, to a Degree, that with all his Acquaintance I paffed for a Prodigy.

He made me obferve, that among the Houybnbinms, the White, the Sorrel, and the Iron-grey, were not fo exactly fhaped as the Bay, the Dapplegrey, and the Black; nor born with equal Talents of the Mind, or a Capacity to improve them; and therefore continued always in the Condition of Servants, without ever afpiring to match out of their own Race, which in that Country would be reckoned monftrous and unnatural.

Imade his Honour my moft humble Acknowledgments! for the good S 4 Opi-

250 Voỳage to Opinion he was pleared to conceive of me; but affured him at the fame Time, that my Birth was of the lower Sort, having been born of plain honeft Parents, who were juft able to give me a tolerable Education: That Nobility among us was altogether a different Thing from the Idea he had of it; That our young Noblemen are bred from their Childhood in Idlenefs and Luxury; that as foon as Years will permit, they confume their Vigour, and contract odious Difeafes among lewd Females; and when their Fortunes are almoft ruined, they marry fome Woman of mean Birth, difagreeable Perfon, and unfound Conftitution, merely for the Sake of Money, whom they hate and defpife. That the Productions of fuch Marriages are generally fcrophulous, ricketty, or deformed Children; by which means the Family feldom continues above three Generations, unlefs the Wife takes Carc to provide a healthy Father among

the Houyhninms. 25 I

 her Neighbours, or Acquaintance, in order to improve and continue the Breed. That a weak difeafed Body, a meager Countenance, and fallow Complexion, are no uncommon Marks of a Great Man ; and a healthy robuft Appearance is fo far difgraceful in a Man of Quality, that the World is apt to conclude his real Father to have been one of the Inferiors of the Family, efpecially when it is feen that the Imperfections of his Mind run parallel with thofe of his Body, and are little elfe than a Compofition of Spleen, Dulnefs, Ignorance, Caprice, Senfuality, and Pride.

252 AVOYAGE to

LGM CH A P. VH.
The Autbor's great Love of his Native Country. His Mafter's Obfervations upon the Conffitution and Adminijfration of England; as deforibed by the Author, with parallel Cafes and Comparifons. His Maftex's Obfervations upon Human Nature.

THE Reader may be difpofed to wonder how I could prevail on myfelf to give fo free a Reprefentation of my own Species, among a Race of Mortals who were already too apt to conceive the vileft Opinion of human Kind from that entire Congruity betwixt me and their Yaboos. But I muft freely confers, that the many Virtues of thofe excellent 2uadrupeds placed in oppofite View to human Corruptions, had fo fat operied my Eyes, and enlightened my Underftanding, that I began to view the Actions and Paffions of Man in a very different Light, and to think the Honour of my own kind not worth managing; which, befides, it was impoffible for me to do before a Perfon of fo acute a Judgment as my Mafter, who daily convinced me of a thoufand Faults in myfelf, whereof I had not the leaft Perception before, and which among us would never be numbered even among human Infirmities, I had likewife learned from his Example an utter Deteftation of all Falfehood or Difguife; and Iruth appeared fo amiable to me, that I determined upon facrificing every thing to it.

$$
\text { the Houyhnhims. } 253
$$

Let me deal fo candidly with the Reader, as to confers, that there was yet a much ftronger Motive for the Freedom I took in my Reprefentation 254 A VOYAGE to of Things. I had not been a Year in this Country, before I contracted fuch a Love and Veneration for the Inhabitants, that I entered on a firm Refolution never to return to human Kind, but to pais the reft of my Life among thefe admirable Houybubums in the Contemplation and Practice of every Virtue; where I could have no Example or Incitement to Vice. But it was decreed by Fortune, my perpetual Enemy, that fo great a Felicity fhould not fall to my fhare. However, it is now fome Comfort to reflect, that in what I faid of my Countrymen, I extenuated their Faults as much as I durft before fo Atrict an Examiner, and upon every Article, gave as favourable a Turn as the Matter would bear. For, indeed, who is there alive that will not be fwayed by his Byafs and Partiality to the Place of his Birth?

I haye related the Subftance of feveral Converfations I had with my Mafter,

the HOUYHNHNMS. 255

Mafter, during the greateft part of the Time I had the Honour to be in his fervice, but have indeed for Brevity fake omitted much more than is here fet down.

When I had anfwered all his Queftions, and his Curiofity feemed to be fully fatisfied; he fent for me one Morning early, and commanding me to fit down at fome diftance, (an Honour which he had never before conferred upon me) he faid, he had been very ferioufly confidering my whole Story, as far as it related both to myfelf and my Country: That he looked upon us as a fort of Animals to whofe fhare, by what Accident he could not conjecture, fome fmall Pittance of Reafon had fallen, whereof we made no other Ufe than by its Affiftance to aggravate our natural Corruptions, and to acquire new ones which Nature had not given us, That we difarmed ourfelves of the few Abilities fhe had beftowed, had been very fucceffful in multiplying our original Wants, and feemed to fpend our whole Lives in vain Endeavours to fupply them by our own Inventions. That as to myfelf, it was manifet I had neither the Strength or Agility of a common Yaboo, that I walked infirmly on my hinder Feet, had found out a contrivance to make my Claws of no Ufe or Defence, and to remove the Hair from my Chin, which was intended as a fhelter from the Sun and the Weather. Laftly, That I could neither run with fpeed, nor climb Trees like my Brethren (as he called them) the Yaboos in this Country.

256 Voyage to

That our Inftitutions of Govery. ment and Laro were plainly owing to our grofs Defects in Reafon, and by confequence, in Virtue; becaule Reafon alone is fufficient to govern a rational Creature; which was therefore a Cliaracter we had no pretence to challenge, even from the Account I had given of my own People, although he manifeftly perceived, that in order to favour them, I had concealed many Particulars, and often faid the thing which was not.

the Houyhnhems. 257

He was the more confirmed in this opinion, becaufe he obferved, that as I agreed in every Feature of my Body with other Yaboos, except where it was to my real Difadvantage in point of Strength, Speed, and Activity, the fhortnefs of my Claws, and fome other particulars where Nature had no part; fo from the Reprefentation I had given him of our Lives, our Manners, and our Actions, he found as near a refemblance in the difpofition of our Minds. He faid the Yaboos were known to hate one another more than they did any different fpecies of Animals; and the Reafon ufually affigned, was, the Odioufnefs of their own Shapes, which all could fee in the reft, but none in themfelves. He had therefore begun to think it not unwife in ts to cover our Bodies, and by that 258 a $A$ Voyage to that Invention, conceal many of our own Deformities from each other, which would elfe be hardly fupportable. But, the now found he had been miftaken, and that the Diffentions of thofe Brutes in his Country were owing to the fame Caufe with ours, as I had defcribed them. For, if (faid he) you throw among five Yaboos as much Food as would be fufficient for fifty, they will, inftead of eating peaceably, fall together by the ears, each fingle one impatient to bave all to itfelf; and therefore a Servant was ufually employed to fand by while they were feeding abroad, and thofe kept at home were tied at a diftance from each other; that if a Cow died of Age or Accident, before a Houybnbrm could fecure it for his own Yaboos, thofe in the Neighbourhood would come in Herds to feize it, and then would enfue fuch a Battle as I had defcribed, with terrible Wounds made by their Claws on both fides, although they feldom were able to kill

the Houyhnhnms.

one another, for want of fuch convenient Inftruments of Death, as we had invented. At other times the like Battles have been fought between the $\Upsilon_{a}$ hoos of feveral Neighbourhoods without any vifible Caufe: Thofe of one Diftrict watching all Opportunities to furprize the next before they are prepared. But if they find their Project hath mifcarryed, they return home, and for want of Enemies, engage in what I call a Civil War among themfelves.

That in fome Fields of his Country, there are certain fizining Stones of feveral Colours, whereof the Yaboos are violently fond, and when Part of thefe Jtones is fixed in the Earth, as it fometimes happeneth, they will dig with their Claws for whole Days to get them out, then carry them away, and hide them by Heaps in their Kennels; but ftill looking round with great Caution, for fear their Comrades fhould find out their Treafure. My Mafter Vol.II.

T faid,

260 Voyage to
faid, he could never difcover the Reafon of this unnatural Appetite, or how thefe Stones could be of any Ufe to a Yaboo; but now he believed it might proceed from the fame Principle of Avarice, which I had afcribed to Mankind; that he had once, by way of Experiment, privately removed a Heap of thefe Stones from the Place where one of his Yaboos had buried it: Whereupon, the fordid Animal miffing his Treafure, by his toud lamenting brought the whole Herd to the Place, there miferably howled, then fell to biting and tearing the reft, began to pine away, would neither eat, nor fleep, nor work, till he ordered a Servant privately to convey the Stones into the fame Hole, and hide them as before; which when his $\mathrm{raboo}^{\text {had }}$ Found, he prefently recovered his Spirits and good Humour, but took care to remove them to a better hiding Place, and hath ever fince been a very ferviceable Brute.

the HouYHNHNMs.

M > Mafter farther affured me, which I alfo obferved myfelf, That in the Fields where the Jining Stones ab bound, the fierceft and moft frequent Battles are fought, occafioned by perpetual Inroads of the Neighbouring raboos

He faid, it was common when two Yaboos difcovered fuch a Stone in a Field, and were contending which of them fhould be the Proprietor, a third would take the Advantage, and carry it away from them both; which my Mafter would needs contend to have fome kind of Refemblance with our Suits at Law ; wherein I thought it for our Credit not to undeceive him; fince the Decifion he mentioned was much more equitable than many De crees among us: Becaure the Plaintiff and Defendant there loft nothing beffdes the Stome they contended for, whereas our Courts of Equity, would feldom have buoy $\mathrm{T}_{2}$ difmiffed

262 A Voyage to
difmiffed the Caule while either of them had any thing left.

My Mafter continuing his Difcourfe, faid, There was nothing that rendered the Yaboos more odious, than their undiftinguifhing Appetite to devour every thing that came in their Way, whether Herbs, Roots, Berries, the corrupted Flefh of Animals, or all min. gled together: And it was peculiar in their Temper, that they were fonder of what they could get by Rapine or Stealth at a greater diftance, than much better Food provided for them at home. If their Prey held out, they would eat till they were ready to burft, after which Nature had pointed out to them a certain Root that gave them a general Evacuation.

There was alfo another kind of Root very juicy, but foinewhat rare and difficult to be found, which the raboos fought for with much Eagernef, and would fuck it with great Delight; and it produced the fame Effects that Wine hath upon us. It would make them fometimes hug, and fometimes tear one another, they would howl and grin, and chatter, and tumble, and then fall afleep in the Dirt.

the Houyhninms. 263

I D id indeed obferve, that the $\mathrm{ra}_{\text {a }}$ boos were the only Animals in this Country fubject to any Difeafes; which however, were much fewer than Horfes have among us, and contracted not by any Ill-treatment they meet with, but by the Naftinefs and Greedinefs of that fordid Brute. Neither has their Language any more than a general Appellation for thofe Maladies, which is borrowed from the Name of the Beaft, and called Hnea- Yaboo or the Yaboo's:Evil, and the Cure prefcribed is a Mixture of their owin Dung and Urine forcibly put down the Yaboo's Throat. This I have fince often taken myfelf, and do freely recommend it to my CountiyT3 men, men for the publick Good, as an admirable Specifick agaift all Difeafes pro. duced by Repletion.

264 A Voyage 10

B As to Learning, Government, Atts, Manufactures, and the like, my Mafter confeffed he could find little or no refemblance between the Yaboos of that $^{\text {fat }}$ Country and thofe in ours. For, he on$1 y$ meant to obferve what Parity there was in our Natures. He had heard indeed fome curious Houybnbnms obferve, that in moft Herds there was a fort of ruling Yaboo, (as among us there is generally fome leading or principal Stag in a Park) who was always more deformed in Body, and mifchierous in Difpofition, than any of the reft. That this Leader had ufually a Favourite as like bimpelf as the could get; whofe Employment was to lick Bis Mafter's Feet and Pofto. riors, and drive the female Yahoos to Bis Kennel; for which he was now and then rewarded with a piece of $\mathrm{Als}^{\prime}$ 's Flefh. This Favourite is hated by the whole Herd, and therefore to protect himfelf, keeps always near the Perfon of his Leader. He ufually continues in office till a worfe can be found; but the very Moment he is difcarded, his Succeffor, at the Head of all the Yaboos in that Diftrict, young and old, male and female, come in a Body, and difcharge their Excrements upon him from head to foot. But how far this might be applicable to our Courts, and Favourites, and Minifters of State, my Mafter faid I could beft determine.

the Houyhnhmms. 265

IDURST make no return to this malicious Infinuation, which debafed human Underftanding below the Sagacity of a common Hound, who has Judgment enough to diftinguifh and follow the cry of the ableft Dog in the pack, without being ever miftaken.

My Mafter told me, there were fome Qualities remarkable in the $\mathrm{Y}_{a}$ boos, which he had not obferved me to

$$
\text { T } 4 \text { mention, }
$$

266 VOYAGF to $A$ हhy
mention, or at leaft very flightly, in the Accounts I had given him of human Kind ; he faid, Thofe Animals, like other Brutes, had their Females in common; but in this they differed, that the She-Yaboo would admit the Male, while fhe was pregnant, and that the Hees would quarrel and fight with Females as fiercely as with each other. Both which Practices were fuch degrees of Brutality, that no other fenfitive Creature ever arrived at.

Another thing he wondered at in the Yaboos, was their frange Difpofition to Naftinefs and Dirt, whereas there appears to be a natural love of Cleanlinefs in all other Animals. As to the two former Accufations, I was glad to let them pafs without any Reply, becaufe I had not a Word to offer upon them in defence of my Species, which otherwife I certainly had done from my own Inclinations. But I could have eafily vindicated human Kind

the Houyhnhems. 267

Kind from the Imputation of Singularity upon the Article, if there had been any Swine in that Country, (as unluckily for me there were not) which although it may be a fweeter Quadru. ped than a Yaboo, cannot I humbly conceive in Juftice pretend to more Cleanlinefs; and fo his Honour himfelf muft have owned, if he had feen their filthy way of feeding, and their cuftom of wallowing and fleeping in the Mud.

My Mafter likewife mentioned another Quality which his Servants had difcovered in feveral Yaboos, and to him was wholly unaccountable. He faid, a Fancy would fometimes take a Yaboo, to retire into a Corner, to lie down and howl, and groan, and fpurn away all that came near him, although he were young and fat, wanted neither Food nor Water; nor could the Servants imagine what could poffibly ail him. And the only Remedy they found, was ro fet him to hard work, after which he would infallibly come to himfelf. To this I was fflent out of partiality to my own Kind; yet here I could difcover the true Seeds of Spleen, which only feizeth on the Lazy, the Luxurious, and the Rich; who, if they were forced to undergo the fame Regimen, I would undertake for the cure.

268 A Voyage to

- His Honour had further obferved, that a Female-Tahoo would often ftand behind a Bank or Bufh, to gaze on the young Males paffing by, and then appear, and hide, ufing many antick Geftures and Grimaces, at which time it was obferved, that fhe had a moft offenfive Smell; and when any of the Males advanced, would flowly retire, looking often back, and with a counterfeit fhew of Fear, run off into fome convenient Place where the knêw the Male would follow her.

the Houyhninms. 269

At other times if a Female Stranget came among them, three or four of her own Sex would get about her, and ftare and chatter, and grin, and fmell her all over, and then turn off with Geftures that feemed to exprefs Con: tempt and Difdain.

Perhaps my Mafter might refine a little in thefe Speculations, which he had drawn from what he obferved himfelf, or had been told him by others: However, I could not reflect without fome Amazement and much Sorrow, that the Rudiments of Lewdnefs, Coquetry, Cenfure, and Scandal, fhould have place by Inftinct in Womankind.

I expected every Moment, that my Mafter would accufe the Yaboos of thofe unnatural Appetites in both Sexes, fo common among us. But Nature, it feems, hath not been fo expert 270 A VOYAGE to Nlt? pert a School-miftrefs; and thefe politer Pleafures are entirely the Productions of Art and Reafon, on our fide of the Globe.

the HOUYHNHNMS. 271

C H A P. VIII.

The Autbor relates feveral Particulars of the Yahoos. The great Virtues of the Houyhnhnms. The Education and Exercifes of their Youth. Their general Afembly.

$A$ S I ought to have underftood humane Nature much better than I fuppofed it poffible for my Mafter to do, fo it was eafy to apply the Character he gave of the raboos to myfelf and my Countrymen, and I believed I could yet make farther Difcoveries from my own Obfervation. I therefore often begged his Favour to let me go among the Herds of Yaboos in the Neighbourhood, to which he always very gracioufly isi AVOYAGE to cioufly confented, being perfectly con: vinced, that the Hatred I bore thofe Brutes, would never fuffer me to be corrupted by them; and his Honour ordered one of his Servants, a ftrong forrel Nag, very honeft and good-natured, to be my Guard, without whofe Protection I durft not undertake fuch Adventures. For I have already told the Reader how much I was peftered with thofe odious Animals upon my firft Arrival: And I afterwards failed very narrowly three or four times of falling into their Clutches, when I happened to ftray at any Diftance without my Hanger. And I have reafon to believe they had fome Imagination that I was of their own Species, which I often affifted myfelf, by ftripping up my Sleeves, and fhewing ny naked Arms and Breaft in their fight, when my Pro: tector was with me. At which times they would approach as near as they durft, -and imitate my Actions after the man--ner of Mankeys, but ever-with great

.the Houyhnhings. 273

figns of Hatred, as a tame Fack-Dare with Cap and Stockings, is always perfecuted by the wild ones, when he happens to be got among them.

- They are prodigioully nimble from their Infancy; however, I once caught ${ }^{\circ}$ a young Male of three Years old, and endeavoured by all Marks of Tendernefs to make it quiet; but the little Imp fell a-fqualling, and fcratching, and biting with fuch Violence, that I was forced to let it go, and it was high time, for a whole Troop of old ones came about us at the Noife, but finding the Cub was fafe, (for away it ran) and my forrel Nag being by, they durft not venture near us. I obferved the young Animal's Flefh to fmell veryrank, and the ftink was fomewhat between a Weafel and a Fox, but much more difagreeable. Iforgot another Circumiftance (and perhaps I might have the Reader's Pardon, if it were wholly omitted) that while I held the odious Vermin in my Hands,

274 A Voyage 20
Hands, it voided its filthy Excrements of a yellow liquid Subftance, all over my Cloaths; but by good Fortune there was a fmall Brook hard by, where I wafhed myfelf as clean as I could, although I durf not come into my Ma-- ffer's Prefence, until I were fufficiently aired.

By what I could difcover, the Yaboos appear to be the moft unteachable of all Animals, their Capacities never reaching higher than to draw or carry Burthens. Yet I am of Opinion, this Defeit arifeth chiefly from a perverfe, reftive Difpofition. For they are cunning, malicious, treacherous and revengeful. They are ftrong and hardy, but of a cowardly Spirit, and by confequence, infolent, abject, and cruel. It is obferved, that the Red-baired of both Sexes are more libidinous and mifchievous than the reft, whom yet they much exceed in Strength and Activity.

The

the Houyhnhinms. 275

The Houbbrbums keep the raboos for prefent ufe in Huts not far from the Houfe; but the reft are fent abroad to certain Fields, where they dig up Roots, eat feveral kinds of Herbs, and fcratcl about for Carrion, or fometimes catch Weafels and Lubimubs (a fort of wild Rat) which they greedily devour. Nature hath taught them to dig deep Holes with their Nails on the fide of a rifing Ground, where they lie by themfelves, only the Kennels of the Females are larger, fufficient to hold two or three Cubs.

They fwim from their Infancy like Frogs, and are able to continue long under Water, where they often take Fifh, which the Females carry home to theif Young. And upon this Occafion, I hope the Reader will pardon my relating an odd Adventure.

Vol.II.

U
Being

Being one Day abroad with my Protector, the forrel Nag, and the Weather exceeding hot, I entreated him to let me bathe in a River that was near. He confented, and I immediately ftripped myfelf ftark naked, and went down foftly into the Stream. It happened that a young Female Yaboo ftanding behind a Bank, faw the whole proceeding, and enflamed by Defire, as the Nag and I conjectured, came running with all fpeed, and leaped into the Water within five Yards of the Place where I bathed. I was never in my Life fo terribly frighted; the Nag was grazing at fome diftance, not fufpecting any harm. She embraced me after a moft fulfome manner; I roared as loud as I could, and the Nag came gallopping towards me, whereupon the quitted her Gralp, with the utmoft Reluctancy, and leaped upon the oppofite Bank, where fhe flood gazing, and howling all the time I was putting on my Cloaths.

THIS

the Houynnanms. $27 y$

This was matter of Diverfion to my Mafter and his Family, as well as of Mortification to myfelf. For now I could no longer deny that I was a real Yaboo, in every Limb and Feature, fince the Females had a natural Propenfity to me as one of their own Species: Neither was the Hair of this Brute of a red Colour, (which might have been fome Excufe for an Appetite a little irregular) but black as a Sloe, and her Countenance did not make an Appearance altogether fo hideous as the reft of the Kind; for I think, fhe could not be above eleven Years old.

Having lived three Years in this Country, the Reader, I fuppore, will expect, that I fhould, like other Travellers, give him fome Account of the Manners and Cuftomis of its Inhabitants, which it was indeed my principal Study to learn.
$278 \quad A$ Voyage to
As thefe noble. Honybnbums are en. dowed by Nature with a general Difpofition to all Virtues, and have no Conceptions or Ideas of what is evil in a rational Creature, fo their grand Maxim is, to cultivate Reafon, and to be wholly governed by it. Neither is Reafon among them a Point Problematical as with us, where Men canargue with Plaufibility on both fides of a Queftion; but ftrikes you with immediate Conviction; as it mult needs do where it is not mingled, obfcured, or difcoloured by Paffion and Interefl. I remember it was with extreme Difficulty that I could bring my Mafter to underftand the meaning of the Word Opinion, or how a Point could be difputable; becaufe Reafon taught us to affirm or deny only where we are certain; and beyond our Knowledge we cannot do either. So that Controverfies, Wranglings, Difputes, and Pofitivenefs in falfe or dubious Propofitions are

the Houyhnhnms. 279

 ate Evils unknown among the Howybubnms. In the like manner, when I ufed to explain to him our feveral Syftems of Natural Pbilofophy, he would laugh that a Creature pretending to Reafon fhould value iefelf upon the Knowledge of other Peoples Conjectures, and in Things, where that Knowledge, if it were certain, could be of no Ufe. Wherein he agreed entirely with the Sentiments of Socrates, as Plato delivers them; which I mention as the highieft Honour I can do that Prince of Philofophers. I have often fince reflected what Deftruction fuch a Doctrine would make in the Libraries of Europe, and how many Paths to Fame would be then fhut up in the learned World.Friendship and Benevolence are the two principal Virtues among the Houybubums, and thefe not confined to particular Objects, but univerfal to the whole Race. For a Stranger from the $U_{3}$ remoteft

280 Voyage to
remoteft Part is equally treated with the neareft Neighbour, and wherever he goes, looks upon himfelf as at home. They preferve Decency and Civility in the higheft Degrees, but are altogether ignorant of Ceremony. They have no Fondnees for their Colts or Foles, but the Care they take in educating them proceeds entirely from the Diftates of Reafon. And I obferved my Mafter to fhew the fame Affection to his Neighbour's Iffue that he had for his own. They will have it, that Nature teaches them to love the whole Species, and it is Reafon only that maketh a Diftinction of Perfons, where there is a fuperior Degree of Virtue,

When the Matron Houbbibums have produced one of each Sex, they no longer accompany with their Conforts, except they lofe one of their Iffue by fome Cafualty, which very feldom lappens: But in fuch a Cafe they meet again,

the Houyhnhinms. 28 I

 again, or when the like Accident befalls a Perfon, whofe Wife is paft bearing, fome other Couple beftow on him one of their own Colts, and then go together again till the Mother is pregnant. This Caution is neceffary to prevent the Country from being overburthened with Numbers. But the Race of inferior Houybninms bred up to be Servants is not fo frictly limited upon this Article; thefe are allowed to produce three of each Sex, to be Domefticks in the noble Families.In their Marriages they are exactly careful to chufe fuch Colours as will not make any difagreeable Mixture in the Breed. Strength is chiefly valued in the Male, and Comelinefs in the Female, not upon the account of Love, but to preferve the Race from degenerating; for where a Female happens to excel in Strength, a Confort is chofen with regard to Comelinefs. Courthip, Love, Prefents, Joyntures, Settlements, U 4 have

282 Voyage to

have no place in their Thoughts; or Terms whereby to exprefs them in their Language. The young Couple meet, and are joyned, merely becaufe it is the Determination of their Parents and Friends: It is what they fee done every Day, and they look upon it as one of the necelfary Actions of a rational Being. But the Violation of Marriage, or any other Unchaftity, was never heard of: And the married Pair pafs their Lives with the fame Friendfhip and mutual Benevolence that they bear to all others of the fame Species, who come in their way; without Jealoufy, Fondneff, Quarrelling, or Difcontent.

In educating the Youth of both Sexes, their Method is admirable, and highly deferves our Imitation. Thefe are not fuffered to tafte a Grain of Oats, except upon certain Days, till eighteen Years old; nor Milk, but very rarell; and in Summer they graze two Hours in the Morning, and as long in the Evening, which their Parents likewife obferve, but the Servants are not allowed above half that time, and a great part of their Grafs is brought home, which they eat at the moft convenient hours, when they can be beft fpared from Work.

the Houyhnhems. 283

Temperance, Indufry, Exercife, and Cleanlinefs, are the Leffons equally enjoined to the young ones of both Sexes : And my Mafter thought it monftrous in us to give the Females a different kind of Education from the Males, except in fome Articles of domeftick Management ; whereby as he truly obferved, one half of our Natives were good for nothing but bringing Children into the World: And to truft the Care of our Children to fuch ufelefs Animals, he faid was yet a greater Inftance of Brutality.

But

284 Voyage ta

But the Honynbnbums train up their Youth to Strength, Speed, and Hardinefs, by exercifing them in running Races up and down fteep Hills, and over hard and ftony Grounds, and when they are all in a fweat, they are ordered to leap over head and ears into a Pond or a River. Four times a Year the Youth of a certain Diftriit meet to Shew their proficiency in Running, and Leaping, and other feats of Strength and Agility, where the Vietor is rewarded with a Song made in his or her Praife. On this Feftival the Servants drive a Herd of Yaboos into the Field, laden with Hay, and Oats, and Milk, for a Repaft to the Honybnbums; after which, thefe Brutes were immediately driven back again, for fear of being noifome to the Affembly.

Every fourth Year at the Vernal Equinox, there is a Reprefentative Council of the whole Nation, which meets

the Houyhnhems. 285

in a Plain about twenty Miles from our Houfe, and continues about five or fix Days. Here they enquire into the State and Condition of the feveral Diftricts, Whether they abound or be deficient in Hay or Oats, of Cows of Yaboos? And wherever there is any Want (which is but feldom) it is immediately fupplied by unanimous Confent and Contribution. Here likewife the Regulation of Children is fettled: As for inftance, if a Houybnbum hath two Males, he changeth one of them with another that hath two Females: And when a Child hath been loft by any Cafualty, where the Mother is paft breeding, it is determined what Family flall breed another to fupply the Lofs.

C H A P.

$$
286 \quad A \text { Voyage to }
$$

C H A P. IX.

A grand Debate at the General Af. fembly of the Houyhnhnms, and bow it was determined. The Learning of the Houyhnhnms. Their Buildings. Their manner of Burials. The Defectiveness of their Language.

O
N E of thefe Grand Affemblies was held in my time, about three months before my Departure, whither my Mafter went as the Reprefentative of our Diftrict. In this Council was refumed their old Debate, and indeed, the only Debate that ever happened in that Country ; whereof my Mafter after his return gave me a very particular Account.

the Houyhnanms. 287

The Quftion to be debated, was, Whether the Yaboos fhould be extirminated from the face of the Earth? One of the Members for the Affirmative offered feveral Arguments of great ftrength and weight, alledging, That as the Yaboos were the moft filthy, noifome, and deformed Animal which $\mathrm{Na}-$ ture ever produced, fo they were the moft reftive and indocible, mifchicvous and malicious: They would privately fuck the Teats of the Honybnbums Cows, kill and devour their Cats, trample down their Oats and Grafs, if they were not continually watched, and commit a thoufand other Extravagancies. He took notice of a general Tradition, That Yaboos had not been always in that Country: But, that many Ages ago, two of thefe Brutes appeared together upon a mountain, whether produced by the Heat of the Sun upon corrupted Mud and Slime, or from the Ooze or Froth of the Sea,

288 Voyage to
was never known. That thefe Yakoos engendered, and their Brood in a fhort time grew fo numerous as to over-ruh and infeft the whole Nation. That the Houybnbums to get rid of this Evil, made a general Hunting, and at laft enclofed the whole Herd, and deftroying the old ones, every Houylonbum kept two young ones in a Kennel, and brought them to fuch a degree of Tamenefs, as an Animal fo favage by $\mathrm{Na}^{-}$ ture can be capable of acquiring; ufing them for Draught and Carriage. That there feemed to be much Truth in this Tradition, and that thofe Creatures could not be Ylubniamfly (or Aborigines of the Land) becaufe of the violent Hatred the Honybubnms, as well as all other Animals, bore them ; which although their evil Difpofition fufficiently deferved, could never have arrived at fo high a Degree, if they had been Aborigines, or elfe they would have long fince been rooted out. That the Inhabitants taking a fancy to ufe the Service

$$
\text { the Houyhnhnms. } 289
$$

Service of the Yaboos, had very imprudently neglected to cultivate the Breed of Afes, which were a comely Animal, eafily kept, more tame and orderly, without any offenfive Smell, ftrong enough for Labour, although they yield to the other in Agility of body; and if their Braying be no agreeable Sound, it is far preferable to the horrible Howlings of the raboos.

Several others declared their Sentiments to the fame purpofe, when my Mafter propofed an Expedient to the Affembly, whereof he had indeed borrowed the Hint from me. He approved of the Tradition mentioned by the Honourable Member, who fpoke before, and affirmed, that the two Yaboos faid to be firft feen among them had been driven thither over the Sea ; that coming to Land, and being forfaken by their Companions, they retired to the Mountains, and degenerating by degrees, became in procefs of time, much more

290 - $A$ Voyage to
more favage than thofe of their own Species in the Country from whence thefe two Originals came. The reafon of his Affertion was, that he had now in his Poffeffion a certain wonderful $\Upsilon_{a}$ hoo, (meaning myfelf) which mof of them had heard of, and many of them had feen. He then related to them, how he firft found me, that my Body was all covered with an artificial Compofure of the Skins and Hairs of other Animals: That I had a Language of my own, and had thoroughly learned theirs; That I had related to him the Accidents which brought me thither: That when he faw me without my Covering, I was an exact $\Upsilon_{a b o o ~ i n ~ e v e r y ~ P a r t, ~ o n-~}^{\text {an }}$ ly of a whiter Colour, lefs hairy and with fhorter Claws. He added, how I had endeavoured to perfuade him, that in my own and other Countries the Yaboos acted as the governing, rational Animal, and held the Honsbnbnms in Servitude: That he oblerved in me all the Qualities of a Yaboo, only the Houчhnhnms. 291 ofily a little more civilized by fome TinCture of Reafon, which however was in a Degree as far inferior to the Honybnbum Race, as the Yaboos of their Country were to me: That, among other things, I mentioned a Cu ftom we had of Cafrating Honybnbums when they were young, in order to render them tame ; that the Operation was eafy and fafe ; that it was no Shame to I learn Wifdom from Brutes, as Induffry is taught by the Ant, and Building by the Swallow. (For fo I tranflate the Word $L$ Lhannh, although it be a much larger Fowl) That this Invention might be practifed upon the younger Yaboos here; which, befides rendring them tractable and fitter for Ufe, would in an Age put an end to the whole Species without deftroying Life. That, in the mean time the Honybubims fhould be exborted to cultivate the Breed of Affes, which as they are in all refpects more valuable Brutes, fo they have this Advantage, Vol. II.
to be fit for Service at five Years old which the others are not till twelve.

This was all my Mafter thought fit to tell me at that time, of what paffed in the Grand Council. But he was pleafed to conceal one particular, wlich related perfonally to myfelf, whereof I foon felt the unhappy Effcet, as the Reader will know in its proper Place, and from whence I date all the fucceeding Misfortunes of my Life.

The Houybribnms have no Letters, and confequently, their Knowledge is all traditional. But there happening few Events of any Moment among a People fo well united, naturally difpofed to every Virtue, wholly governed by Reafon, and cut off from all Commerce with other Nations, the hiftorical Part is eafily preferved without burthening their Memory. I have already obferved, that they are fubject o no Difeafes, and therefore can have 6

$$
\text { the Houyhnems. } 293
$$ no need of Phyficians. However, they have excellent Medicines compofed of Herbs, to cure accidental Bruifes and Cuts in the Paftern or Frog of the Foot by flarp Stones, as well as other Maims and Hurts in the feveral Parts of the Body.

They calculate the Year by the Revolution of the Sun and the Moon, but ufe no Subdivifions into Weeks. They are well enough acquainted with the Motions of thofe two Luminaries, and underftand the Nature of Eclipfes; and this is the utmoft Progrefs of their Aftroiomy.

In Poetry they muft be allowed to excel all other Mortals; wherein the Juftnefs of their Similes, and the Minutenefs, as well as Exactnefs of their Defcriptions, are indeed inimitable. Their Verfes abound very much in both of thefe, and ufually contain either fome exalted Notions of Friendfhip and Be$\mathrm{X}_{2}$ nevolence, 294 A VOYAGE to nevolence, or the Praifes of thofe who were Victors in Races, and other bodily Exercifes. Their Buildings, although very rude and fimple, are not inconvenient, but well contrived to defend them from all Injuries of Cold and Heat. They have a kind of Tree, which at forty Years old loofens in the Root, and falls with the firft Storm; they grow very ftrait, and being pointed like Stakes with a fharp Stone, (for the Houybnhnms know not the Ufe of Iron) they ftick them ereet in the Ground about ten Inches afunder, and then weave in Oat-ftraw, or fometimes Wattles betwixt them. The Roof is made after the fame Manner, and fo are the Doors.

THE Houybnbums ufe the hollow Part between the Paftern and the Hoof of their Forefeet, as we do our Hands, and this with greater Dexterity, than I could firft imagine. I have feen a white Mare of our Family thread a Needle

$$
\text { the Houxhnhins. } 295
$$

Needle (which I lent her on purpofe) with that Joynt. They milk their Cows, reap their Oats, and do all the Work which requires Hands, in the fame manner. They have a kind of hard Flints, which by grinding againft other Stones, they form into Inftruments, that ferve inftead of Wedges, Axes, and Hammers. With Tools made of there Flints, they likewife cut their Hay, and reap their Oats, which there groweth naturally in feveral Fields: The Yaboos draw home the fheaves in Carriages, and the Servants tread them in feveral covered Hutts, to get out the Grain, which is kept in Stores. They make a rude kind of earthen and wooded Veffels, and bake the former in the Sun.

If they can avoid Cafualties, they die only of Old-Age, and are buried in the obfcureft Places that can be found, their Friends and Relations expreffing neither Joy nor Grief at their DeX 3 parture parture, nor does the dying Perfon difcover the leaft Regret that he is leaving the World, any more than if he were upon returning home from a Vifit to one of his Neighbours. I remember my Mafter having once made an Appointment with a Friend and his Family to come to his Houfe upon fome Affair of Importance, on the Day fixed, the Miftrefs and her two Children came very late; The made two Excufes, firft for her Husband, whio, as the faid, happened that very Morning to Sbnuwnh. The Word is ftrongly expreffive in their Language, but not cafily rendered into Englifh, it fignifies, to retire to bis firf Motber. Her Excufe for not coming fooner, was, that her Husband dying late in the Morning, The was a good while confulting her Servants about a convenient place where his Body fhould be laid; and I obferved the behaved herfelf at our Houfe, as chearfully as the reff, and died about three months after.

296 VOYAGE to

the Houyhnhnms. 297

They live generally to feventy or feventy five Years, very feldom to fourfcore: Some Weeks before their Death they feel a gradual Decay, but without Pain. During this time they are much vifited by their Friends, becaure they cannot go abroad, with their ufual Eafe and Satisfaction. However, about ten Days before their Death, which they feldom fail in computing, they return the Vifits that have been made them by thofe who are neareft in the Neighbourhood, being carried in a convenient Sledge drawn by Yaboos, which Vehicle they ufe, not only upon this Occafion, but when they grow old upon long Journeys, or when they are lamed by any Accident. And therefore when the dying Houybnbums return thofe Vifits, they take a folemn Leave of their Friends, as if they were going to fome remote Part of the Country, where they defigned to pafs the reft of their Lives.

298 A Voyage to
I know not whether it may be worth oblerving, that the Houybnhnms have no Word in their Language to exprefs any thing that is Evil, except what they borrow from the Deformities or ill Qualities of the Yaboos. Thus they denote the Folly of a Servant, an Omiffion of a Child, a Stone that cut their Feet, a Continuance of foul or unfeafonable Weather, and the like, by adding to each the Epithet of Y aboo: For Inftance, bhwm Yaboo, WV bnabolm Yaboo, Yulbmndwiblma raboo, and an ill contrived Houfe, Yubolmbumroblurw Yaboo.

I could with great Pleafure enlarge farther upon the Manners and Virtues, of this excellent People; but intending in a fhort time to publifh a Volume by itfelf exprefly upon that Subject, I refer the Reader thither. And in the mean time, proceed to relate my own fad Cataftrophe.

the Houyhnhms. 299

C H A P. X.

The Authar's Oeconomy and happy Life. among the Houyhnhnms. His great Improvement in Virtue, by converfing with them. Their Converfations. The Author has notice given bim by bis Mafter that he muft depart from the Country. He falls into a Sreoon for Grief, but fubmits. He contrives and finifhes a Canoo, by the belp of a Fellow-Servant, and puts to Sea at a venture.

IHAD fettled my little Oeconomy, to my own Hearts content. My Mafter had ordered a Room for me after their Manner, about fix Yards from the Houfe, the Sides and Floors of which I plaiftered with Clay, and contriving; I had beaten Hemp, which there grows wild, and made of it a fort of Ticking: This I filled with the Feathers of feveral Birds I had taken with Springes made of Yaboos Hairs, and were excellent Food. I had worked two Chairs with my Knife, the Sorrel Nag helping me in the groffer and more laborious Part. When my Cloaths were worn to Rags, I made myfelf others with the Skins of Rabbets, and of a certain beautiful Animal about the fame Size, called Nuubnob, the Skin of which is covered with a fine Down. Of thefe I made very tolerable Stockings. I foaled my Shoes with Wood, which I cut from a Tree, and fitted to the upper Leather; and when this was worn out, 1 fupplied it with the Skins of Yaboos dried in the Sun. I often got Honey out of hollow Trees, which I mingled with Water, or eat with my Bread. No Man could more verify the Truth of thefe two Maxims, That Nature is very eafily fatisfied; and, That Necefity is the Mother of Invention. I enjoyed perfect Health of Body and Tranquillity of Mind ; I did not find the Treachery or Inconftancy of a Friend, nor the Injuries of a fecret or open Enemy; I had no occafion of bribing, flattering, or pimping, to procure the favour of any Great Man or of his Minion; I wanted no Fence againft Fraud or Oppreffion ; here was neither Phyfician to deftroy my Body, nor Lawyer to ruin my Fortune; no Informer to watch my Words and Actions, or forge Accufations againft me for hire ; here were no Gibers, Cenfurers, Backbiters, Pick-pockets, Highwaymen, Houfebreakers, Attorneys, Bawds, Buffoons, Gamefters, Politicians, Wits, fplenetick tedious Talkers, Controvertifts, Ravifhers, Murderers, Robbers, Virtuofo's; no Leaders or Followers of Party and Faction; no Encouragers to Vice, by Seducement or Examples; no Dungeon, Axes, Gibbets, Whipping-pofts, or Pil-lories;

the HOUYHNHNMS. 301

$$
302 \text { A VOYAGE to }
$$

lories; no cheating Shop-keepers or Mechanicks; no Pride, Vanity, or Affectation; no Fops, Bullies, Dunkards, ftrolling Whores, or Poxes; no ranting, lewd, expenfive Wives; no ftupid, proud Pedants ; no importunate, overbearing, quarrelfome, noify, roaring, empty, conceited, fwearing Companions; no Scoundrels, raifed from the Duft for the fake of their Vices, or Nobility thrown into it on account of their Virtues; no Lords, Fidlers, Judges, or Dancing-Mafters.

IHAD the favour of being admitted to feveral Houybnbums, who came to vifit or dine with my Mafter, where his Honour gracioufly fuffered me to wait in the Room, and liften to their Difcourfe. Both he and his Company would often defcend to ask me Quftions, and receive my Anfwers. I had alfo fometimes the Honour of attending my Mafter in his Vifits to others. I never prefumed to fpeak, except in anfwer anfwer to a Queftion, and then I did it with inward Regret, becaufe it was a Lofs of fo much Time for improving myfelf: But I was infinitely delighted with the Station of an humble Auditor in fuch Converfations, where nothing paffed but what was ufeful, expreffed in the feweft and moft fignificant Words: Where the greatef Decency was obferved, without the leaft Degree of Ceremony; where no Perfons fpoke without being pleafed himfelf, and pleafing his Companions: Where there was no Interruption, Tedioufnefs, Heat or Difference of Sentiments. They have a Notion, That when People are met together, a fhort Silence doth much improve Converfation: This I found to be true; for during thofe little Intermiffions of Talk, new Ideas would arife in the Thoughts, which very much enlivened their Difcourfe. Their Subjects are generally on Friendfhip and Benevolence, on Order and Oeconomy, fometimes upon the vifible Operations of Nature, Nature, or ancient Traditions, upon the Bounds and Limits of Vistue, upon the unerring Rules of Reafon, or upon fome Determinations, to be taken at the next great Affembly; and often upon the various Excellencies of Poetry. I may add without Vanity, that my Prefence often gave them fufficient Matter for Difcourfe, becaufe it afforded my Mafter an Occafion of letting his Friends into the Hiftory of me and my Country, upon which they were all pleafed to defcant in a manner not very adyantageous to humane Kind; and for that Reafon I fhall not repeat what they faid: Only I may be allowed to obferve, That his Honour, to my great Admiration, appeared to underfand the Na ture of Yaboos in all Countries, much better than myfelf. He went through all our Vices and Follies, and difcovered many which I had never mentioned to him, by only fuppofing what Qualities a Yaboo of their Country, with a fmall proportion of Reafon, might be capable capable of exerting; and concluded, with too much Probability, how vile as well as miferable fuch a Creature mult be.

the Houyhnhems. 303

the Houyhnhnms. 305

I freely confefs, that all the little Knowledge I have of any value, was acquired by the Leatures I received from my Mafter, and from hearing the Difcourfes of him and his Friends; to which I fhould be prouder to liften, than to dictate to the greateft and wifeft Affembly in Europe. I admired the Strength, Comelinefs, and Speed of the Inhabitants, and fuch a Conftellation of Virtues in fuch amiable Perfons produced in me the higheft Veneration. At firft, indeed, I did not feel that natural Awe which the Yaboos and all other Animals bear towards them, but it grew upon me by Degrees, much fooner than I imagined, and was mingled with a refpectful Love and Gratitude, that they would condefcend to diftigguinh diftinguifh me from the reft of my Species.
$306 A$ Voyage to

When I thought of my Family, my Friends, and my Countrymen, or Human Race in general, I confidered them as they really were, Yaboos in Shape and Difpofition, only a little civilized, and qualified with the Gift of Speech, but making no other ufe of Reafon, than to improve and multiply thofe Vices, whereof their Brethren in this Country had only the Share that Nature allotted them. When I happened to behold the Reflection of my own Form in a Lake or a Fountain, I turned away my Face in Horror and Deteftation of my felf, and could better endure the sight of a common Yaboo, than of my own Perfon. By converfing with the Honybnbnms, and looking upon them with Delight, I fell to imitate their Gate and Gefture, which is now grown into an Habit, and my Friend́s often tell me, in a blunt Way, that I trot

the Houyhninms. joy

 thike a Hiorfe; which, however, I take for a great Compliment: Neither fhall I difown, that in Ifeaking I am apt to fall into the voice and manner of the Houybonbrms, and hear myfelf ridiculed on that account without the leaft Mor2

In the midft of all this Happieef, and when I looked upon myfelf to be fully fettled for Life, my Mafter fent for me one Morning a little earlier than his ufual Hour. I obferved by his Countenance that he was in fome perplexity, and at a lofs how to begin what he had to fpeak. After Ta flort Silence, he told me, He did not know how I would take what lie was going to fay; that in the laft general Affembly, when the Affair of the raboos was entered upon, the Reprefentatives had taken offence at his keeping a $r_{\text {a }}$ boo (meaning myfelf) in his Family more like a Houybnbnm, than a brute Animal. That he was known frequentVol. II.

308 Voyage to ly to converfe with me, as if he could receive fome Advantage or Pleafure in my Company: That fuch a Practice was not agreeable to Reafon or Nature, nor a thing ever heard of before among them. The Affembly did therefore exbort him, either to employ me like the reft of my Species, or command me to fwim back to the place from whence I came. That the firft of thefe Expedients was utterly rejected by all the Houybnbnms who had ever feen me at his Houfe or their own: For they alledged, That becaufe I had fome Rudiments of Reafon, added to the natural pravity of thofe Animals, it was to be feared, I might be able to feduce them into the woody and mountainous parts fof the Country, and bring them in Troops by night to deftroy the Houybnbnms Cattle, as being naturally of the ravenous kind, and averfe from Labour.

the HouYHNHNMS. 309

M y Mafter added, That he was dayly preffed by the Honybnbums of the Neighbourhood to liave the Affembly's Exhortation executed, which he could not put off much longer. He doubted it would be impoffible for me to fwim to another Country, and therefore wifhed I would contrive fome fort of Vehicle refembling thofe I had defcribed to him, that might carry me on the Sea, in which work I fhould have the Affiftance of his own Sers vants, as well as thofe of his Neighbours. He concluded, That for his own part, he tould have been content to keep me in his Service as long as I lived, becaufe he found I had cured myfelf of rome bad Habits and Difpofitions, by endeavouring, as far as my inferior Nature was capable, to imitate the Houlybnhnms.

> I should here obferve to the Reader, That a Decree of the general Afo
> ${ }^{1} 2$
> fembly

3 IO $A$ Voyage to fembly in this Country, is expreffed by the Word Hubloayn, which fignifies an Exhortation ; as near as I can rendet it: For they have no conception how a rational Creature can be compelled, but only advifed, or exborted, becaufe no Perfon can difobey Reafon, without giving up his Clain to be a rational Creature.

I was ftrick with the litmoft Grief and Derpair at my Mafter's Difcourfe, and being uinable to fupport the Agonies 1 wwas under, If fell into a Swoon at his Feet; when I came to myfelf, he told me, that he concluded I had been deado (For thefe People are fubjectl to no fuch Imbecillities of Nature. I anfwered; in a faint Voice, That Death would have been too great an Happinefs; that although I could not blame the Affèmbly's $E x$ bortation, or the Urgency of his Friends; yet in my weak and corrupt Judgment, I thought it might confilt with Reafon

the Houyhnhings. 3 II

Reafon to have been lefs rigorous. That I could not fwim a League, and probably the neareft Land to theirs might be diftant above an hundred: That many Materials, neceflary for making a fmall Veffel to carry me off, were wholly wanting in this Country, which however, I would attempt in Obedience and Gratitude to his Honour, although I concluded the Thing to be imporfible, and therefore looked on myfelf as already devoted to Deftruction. That the certain Profpect of unnatural Death, was the leaft of my Evils: For, fuppofing I fhould efcape with Life by fome ftrange Adventure, how could I think with Temper of paffing my Days, among raboos, and relapfing into my old Corruptions, for want of Examples to lead and keep me within the Paths, of Virtue? That I knew too well upon what folid Reafons all the Determinations of the wife Houybubums were founded, not to be fhaken by Ar guments of mine, a miferable raboo; Y 3
and
$312 \quad A$ VOYAGE to
and therefore after prefenting him with my humble Thanks for the Offer of his Servants Affiftance in making a Veffel, and defiring a reafonable Time for fo difficult a Work, I told him I would endeavour to preferve a wretched Being; and if ever I returned to England, was not without Hopes of being ufeful to my own Species, by celebrating the Praifes of the renowned Houybribums, and propofing thicir Virtues to the Imitation of Mankind.

My Mafter in a few Words made me a very gracious Reply, allowed me the fpace of two Months to finifh my Boat; and ordered the Sorrel Nag, my Fellow-Servant, (for fo at this diftance I may prefume to call him) to follow my Inftructions, becaufe I told my Mafter, that his help would be fufficient, and I knew he had a Tendernefs for me.

the HouyHnhims. $3^{I}$

In his Company my firft Bufinefs was to go to that Part of the Coaft, where my rebellious Crew had ordered me to be fet on flore. I got upon a Height, and looking on every fide into the Sea, fanfied I faw a frmall Ifland, towards the Nortb-Eaff: I took out my Pocket-glafs, and could then clearly diftinguifh it about five Leagues off, as I computed; but it appeared to the Sorrel Nag to be only a blue Cloud: For, as he had no Conception of any Country befide his own, fo he could not be as expert in diftinguifhing remote Objects at Sea, as we who fo much converfe in that Element.

After I had difcovered this Ifland, I confidered no farther; but refolved, it thould, if poffible, be the firft Place of my Banifhment, leaving the Confequence to Fortune.

Y4 IRE

$$
314 \text { A VoYAGE to }
$$

I I returned home, and confulting with the Sorrel Nag, we went into, a Copre at fome Dittance, where I with my Knife, and he with a fharp Flint faftened very artificially, after their manner, to a wooden Handle, cut down feveral Oak Wattles about the Thicknefs of a Walking-ftaff, and fome larger Pieces. But I fall not trouble the Reader with a particular Defcription of my own Mechanicks; let it fuffice to fay, that in fix Weeks time, with the Help of the Sorrel Nag, who performed the Parts that required moft Labour, I finithed a fort of Indian Canoo, but much larger, covering it with the Skins of Yaboos well fitched together, with hempen Threads of my own making. My Sail was likewife compored of the Skins of the fame Animal; but I made ufe of the youngeft I could get, the older being too tough and thick, and I likewife provided myfelf with four Paddles. I laid in a Stock

the Houyhnhmms. 315

of boiled flefh of Rabbets and Fowls, and took with me two Veffels, one filled with Milk, and the other with Water.

I tried my Canoo in a large Pond near my Mafter's Houfe, and then corrected in it what was amifs ; ftopping all the chinks with Yaboos Tallow, till I found it fanch, and able to bear me, and my freight. And when it was as compleat as I could poffibly make it, I had it drawn on a Carriage very gently by Yaboos to the Sea-fide, under the conduct of the forrel Nag , and another Servant.

When all was ready, and the Day come for my departure, I took leave of my Mafter and Lady, and the whole family, mine Eyes flowing with Tears, and my Heart quite funk with Grief, But his Honour, out of curiofity, and perhaps (if I may freak it without Va nity) partly out of kindnefs, was determined mined to fee me in my Canoo, and got feveral of his neighbouring Friends to accompany him. I was forced to wait above an Hour for the Tide, and then obferving the Wind very fortunately bearing towards the ffland, to which I intended to fteer my Courfe. I took a fecond Leave of my Mafter: But as I was going to proftrate myfelf to kifs his Hoof, he did me the Honour to raife it gently to my Mouth. I am not ignorant how much I have been cenfured for mentioning this laft Particular. For my Detractors are pleafed to think it improbable, that fo illuftrious a Perfon fhould defcend to give fo great a Mark of Diftinction to a Creature fo inferior as I. Neither have I forgot, how apt fome Travellers are to boaft of extraordinary Favours they have received. But if thefe Cenfurers were better acquainted with the noble and courteous Difpofition of the Honybnbnms, they would foon change their Opinion.

IPAID

the Houyhnhims. 317

I paid my refpects to the reft of the Houybnbums in his Honour's Company; then getting into my Canoo, I pufhed off from Shore.

```
318 A VOYAgE

\section*{C H A P. XI.}

Tbe Author's dangerous Voyage. He arrives at New-Holland, boping to Settle there. Is wounded with an Arrow by one of the Natives. Is feized and carried by force into a Portugueze Sbip. The great Civilities of the Captain. The Autbor arrives at England.

\(T\)Began this defperate Voyage on February 15, 1714-15, at \(90^{\circ}\) Clock in the Morning. The Wind was very favourable; however, I made ufe at firft only of my Paddles, but confidering I fhould foon be weary, and that the Wind might chop about, I ventured to fet up my little Sail; and thus with

\section*{the Houyhnanms. 319}
with the Help of the Tide, I went at the Rate of a League and a Half an Hour, as near as I could guefs. My Mafter and his Friends continued on the Shoar, till I was almoft out of Sight; and I often heard the Sorrel Nag (who always loved me) crying out, Hnuy illa nyba majab Yaboo, Take care of thyfelf, gentle raboo.

M y Defign was, if poffible, to difcover forme fimall Ifland uninhabited, yet fufficient by my Labour to furnifh me with the Neceffities of Life, which I would have thought a greater Happinefs than to be firf Minifter in the politeft Court of Europe; fo horrible was the Idea I conceived of returning to live in the Society, and under the Government of Yaboos. For in fuch a Solitude as I defired, I could at leaft enjoy my own Thoughts, and reflect with Delight on the Virtues of thofe inimitable Houybribnms, without any Opportunity of degenerating tating into the Vices and Corruptions of my own Species.

The Reader may remember what I related when my Crew confpired againft me, and confined me to my Cabbin. How I continued there feveral Weeks; without knowing what Courfe we took, and when I was put a Shoar in the long Boat, how the Sailors told me with Oaths, whether true or falfe, that they knew not in what Part of the World we were. However, I did then believe us to be about ten Degrees Southward of the Cape of Good Hope, or about 45 Degrees Southern Latitude, as I gathered from fome general Words I over-heard among them, being I fuppofed to the South-Eaft in their intended Voyage to Madagafcar. And although this were but little better than Conjecture, yet I refolved to fteer my Courfe Eaff: ward, hoping to reach the South-Wef Coaft of New-Holland, and perhaps fome

\section*{the HouY HNHNMs. 321}
fome fuch Illand as I defired, lying Weftrward of it. The Wind was full Wef, and by fix in the Evening I computed I had gone Eaftrward at leaft eighteen Leagues, when I fpied a very fmall Ifland about half a League off, which I foon reached. It was nothing but a Rock with one Creek, naturally arclied by the Force of Tempefts. Here I put in my Canoo, and climbing up a Part of the Rock, I could plainly difcover Land to the Eaf, extending from Soutb to North. I lay all Night in my Canoo, and repeating my Voyage early in the Morning, I arrived in feven Hours to the South-Eaft Point of New Holland. This confirmed me in the Opinion I have long entertained, that the Maps and Cbarts place this Country at leaft three Degrees more to the Eaft than it really is; which thought I communicated many Years ago to my worthy Friend Mr. Herman Moll, and gave him my Reafons for it, although he fath rather chofen to follow other Authors.
\[
322 \quad A \text { Voyage to }
\]

I saw no Inhabitants in the Place where I landed, and being unarmed, I was afraid of venturring far into the Country: I found fome Shell-fifh on the Shoar, and eat them raw, not daring to kindle a Fire, for fear of being difcovered by the Natives. I continued thitee Days feeding on Oyfters and Lims pits, to fave my own Provifions, and I fortunately found a Brook of excellent Water, which gave me great Re lief.
- On the fourth Day, venturing out early a little too far, I faw twenty or thirty Natives upon a Height, not above five hundred Yards from me. They were ftark naked, Men, Women, and Children round a Fire, às I could difcover by the Smoak. Orie of them fpied me, and gave notice to the reft; five of them advanced towards me, 6 leaving

\section*{the Houyhnhems. 323} lea ving the Women and Children at the Fire. I made what hafte I could to the Shore, and getting into my Canoo; fhoved off: The Savages obferving me retreat ran after me; and before I could get far enough into the Sea, difcharged an Arrow, which wounded me deeply on the infide of my left Knee. (I fhall carry the Mark to my Grave:) I apprehended the Arrow might be poifoned, and paddling out of the reach of their Darts (being a calm Day) I made a fhift to fuck the Wound, and drefs it as well as I could.

I was at a lofs what to do, for \(\mathbf{I}\) durft not return to the fame Landingplace, but food to the North, and was forced to paddle; for the Wind, though very gentle, was againft me, Blowing North-Wefl. As I was looking about for a fecure Landing-place, I faw a Sail to the North Nortb-Eaft, which ap pearing every Minute more vifible, I was in fome doubt, whether I fhould Vol.II.

Z
wait
\[
324 \text { A Voyage to }
\]
wait for them or no, but at laft my Deteffation of the Yaboo Race prevailed, and turging my Canoo, I failed and paddled together to the South, and got into the fame Creek from whence I fet out in the Morning, chufing rather to truft myfelf among thefe Barbarians, than live with European Yaboos. I drew up my Canoo as clofe as I could to the Shore, and hid myfelf behind a Stone by a little Brook, which, as I have already faid, was excellent Water.

The Ship came within half a league of this Creek, and fent out her LongBoat with Veffels to take in frefh Water (for the Place, it feems, was very well known) but I did not obferve it till the Boat was almoft on Shore, and it was too late to feek another Hidingplace. The Seamen at their landing obferved my Canoo, and rummaging it all over, eafily conjectured, that the Owner could not be far off. Four of them well-armed fearched every Cranny and

\section*{the Houyhnhnms. 325}
and Lurking-hole, till at laft, they found me flat on my Face behind the Stone. They gazed a while in admiration at my ftrange uncouth Drefs, my Coat made of Skins, my wooden foaled Shoes, and my furred Stockings ; from whence, however, they concluded, I was not a Native of the Place, who all go naked. One of the Seamen in Portugueze bid me rife, and asked who I was. I underftood that Language very well, and getting upon my Feet, faid, I was a poor Yaboo, banifhed from the Houybntrums, and defired they would pleafe to let me depart. They admired to hear me anfwer them in their own Tongue, and faw by my Complexion I muft be an European; but were at a lofs to know what I meant by Yakroos and Hourybubums, and at the fame time fell a laughing at my ftrange Tone in fpeaking, which refembled the Neighing of a Horfe. I trembled all the while betwixt Fear and Hatred: I again defired leave to depart, and was gently moving to my Z 2 Canoo;

Canoo; but they laid hold on me, defiring to know what Country I was of? whence I came? with many other Queflions. I told them, I was born in Eng. land, from whence I came about five Years ago, and then their Country and ours were at Peace. I therefore hoped they would not treat me as an Enemy, fince I meant them no harm, but was a poor Yaboo, feeking fome defolate Place where to pafs the Remainder of his unfortunate Life.
1. When they began to talk, Ithought I never heard or faw any thing fo unnatural; for it appeared to me as monftrous as if a Dog or a Cow fhould fpeak in England, as a Yaboo in Houy-bnbnm-land. The honeft Portugueze were equally amazed at my ftrange Drefs, and the odd manner of delivering my Words, which, however, they underftood very well. They fpoke to me with great Humanity, and faid they were fure their Captain would \section*{the Houyhnhnms. 327} carry me gratis to Lisbon, from whence I might return to my own Country; that two of the Seamen would go back to the Ship, inform the Captain of what they had feen, and receive his Orders; in the mean time, unlefs I would give my folemn Oath not to fly they would fecure me by force. I thought it beft to comply with their Propofal. They were very curious to know my Story, but I gave them very little Satisfaction; and they all conjectured, that my Miffortunes had impaired my Reafon. In two Hours, the Boat, which went loaden with Veffels of Water, returned with the Captain's Command to fetch me on Board. I fell on my Knees to preferve my Liberty; but all was in vain, and the Men having tied me with Cords, heaved me into the Boat, from whence I was taken into the Ship, and from thence into the Captain's Cabbin.

\section*{\(A\) Vorage to}

His Name was Pedro de Mendez, he was a very courteous and generous Perfon; he entreated me to give fome Account of myfelf, and defired to know what I would eat or drink; faid I fhould be ufed as well as himfelf, and fpoke fo many obliging things that I wondered to find fuch Civilities from a Yaboo. However, I remained flent and fullen; I was ready to faint at the very fmell of him and his Men. At laft I defired fomething to eat out of my own Canoo; but he ordered me a Chicken and fome excellent Wine, and then directed that I fhould be put to bed in a very clean Cabbin. I would not undrefs myfelf, but lay on the Bed-cloaths, and in half an Hour ftole Out, when I thought the Grew was at Dinner, and getting to the fide of the Ship was going to feap into the Sea, and fwim for my Life, rather than continue among rahoos. But one of the Seamen prevented me, and having infurmed formed the Captain, I was chained to my Cabbing.

\section*{the Houyhnhnm.}

After Dinner Don Pedro came to me, and defired to know my reafon for fo defperate an Attempt; affured me he only meant to do me all the Service he was able, and fpoke fo very movingty, that at lat I defended to treat him like an Animal that had forme little Portion of Reafon. I gave him a very flor Relation of my Voyage, of the Conspiracy againft me by my own Men, of the Country where they feet me on Shore, and of my three Years Refidence there. All which he looked upon as if it were a Dream or a Vifin; whereat I took great Offence; for I had quire forgot the Faculty of Lying, fo peculiar to Taboos in all Counttries where they prefide, and confequently the Difpofition of fufpecting Truth in others of their awn Species. I asked him, Whether it were the Cu foo in his Country to fay the Thing \(Z_{4}\) that that was not? I affured him I had almoft forgot what he meant by Falfehood, and if I had lived a thoufand Years in Houybnbumband, I fhould never have heard a Lye from the meaneft Servant; that I was altogether indifferent whether he believed me or no; but however, in return for his Favours, I would give fo much Allowance to the Corruption of his Nature, as to anfwer any Objection he would please to make, and then he might eafily difcover the Truth.

330 A Voyage to

The Captain, a wife Man, after many Endeavours to catch me tripping in fome Part of my Story, at laft began to have a better Opinion of my Veracity; and the rather, becaufe he confeffed, he met with a Dutch Skipper, who pretended to have landed with five others of his Crew upon a certain Ifland or Continent South of New Holland, where they went for frefh Water, and obferved a Horfe driving before

\section*{the Houyhnhnms. 33F}
fore him feveral Animals exactly refembling thofe I defrribed under the Name of Yaboos, with fome other Particulars, which the Captain faid he had forgot; becaufe he then concluded them all to be Lies. But he added, that fince I profeffed fo inviolable an Attachment to Truch, I muft give him my Word of Honour to bear him Company in this Voyage, without attempting any thing againft my Life, or elfe he would continue me a Prifoner till we arrived at Lifbon. I gave him the Promile he required ; but at the fame time protefted, that I would fuffer the greatelt Hardflips rather than return to live at mong Yaboos

OUR Voyage paffed without any confiderable Accident. In Gratitude to the Captain I fometimes fate with him at his earneft Requeft, and ftrove to conceal my Antipathy to human Kind, although it often broke out, which he fuffered to pafs without Obfervation.

\section*{\(33^{2}\) A Voyage ta}

But the greateft Part of the Day, I confined myfelf to my Cabbin, to avoid feeing any of the Crew. The Captain had often entreated me to ftrip myfelf of my Savage Drefs, and offered to Iend me the beft Suit of Cloaths he had. This I would not be prevailed on to accept, abhorring to cover myfelf with any thing that had been on the Back of a Yaboo. I only defired he would lend me two clean Shirts, which having been wafhed fince he wore them, I believed would not fo much defile me. Thefe I changed every fecond Day, and wafhed them myfelf.
W.e arrived at Lisbon, Nov. 5. 1715. At our landing the Captain forced me to cover myfelf with his Cloak, to prevent the Rabble from crouding about me. I was conveyed to his own Houfe, and at my earneft Requeft, he led me up to the higheft Room backwards. I conjured him to conceal from all Perfons what I had told him of the Houybnhbums, becaufe the leaft Hint of fuch a Story would not only draw Numbers of People to fee me, but probably, put me in Danger of being imprifoned, or burnt by the \(I n\) quifition. The Captain perfuaded me to accept a Suit of Cloaths newly made, but I would not fuffer the Taylor to take my Meafure; however, Don \(P\) Pdro, being almoft of my Size, they fitted me well enough. He accoutred me with other Neceffaries all new, which I aired. for twenty-four Hours before I would ufe them.

\section*{the Houyhninms. 333}
- The Captain had no Wife, nor above three Servants, none of which were fuffered to attend at Meals, and his whole Deportment was fo obliging, added to very good buman Underftanding, that I really began to tolerate his Company. He gained fo fat upon me, that I ventured to look out of the back Window. By degrees blay I was

\section*{334 A Voyage to}

I was brought into another Room, from whence I peeped into the Street, but drew my Head back in a Fright. In a Week's Time he feduced me down to the Door. I found my Terror gradually leffened, but my Hatred and Contempt feemed to encreafe. I was at laft bold enough to walk the Street in his Company, but kept my Nofe well ftopped with Rue, or fometimes with Tobacco.

In ten Days, Don Pedra, to whom I had given fome Account of my domeftick Affairs, put it upon me as a matter of Honour and Confcience, that I ought to return to my native Country, and live at home with my Wife and Children. He told me, there was an Englifh Ship in the Port juft ready to fail, and he would furnifh me with all Things neceffary. It would be tedious to repeat his Arguments, and my Contradictions. He faid it was alrogether impoflible to find fuch a folitary

Ifland

\section*{the Houyhnhems. 335}

Ifland as I had defired to live in ; but I might command in my own Houfe, and pafs my time in a manner as reclufe as I pleafed.

I complied at laft, finding I could not do better. I left Lisbon the 24 th Day of November, in an Englifh Mer-chant-man, but who was the Mafter I never enquired. Don Pedro accompanied me to the Ship, and lent me twenty Pounds. He took kind leave of me, and embraced me at parting, which I bore as well as I could: During the laft Voyage I had no Commerce with the Mafter or any of his Men, but pretending I was fick kept clofe in my Cabbin. On the fifth of December, 1715 , we caft anchor in the Dorens about Nine in the Morning, and at Three in the Afternoon I got fafe to my Houfe at Rotherbith.

My Wife and Family received me with great Surprize and. Joy, becaufe they
\[
33^{6} \text { A Voyage to }
\]
they concluded me certainly dead; but I muft freely confefs the fight of them filled me only with Hatred, Difguft, and Contempt, and the more by reflecting on the near Alliance I had to them. For, although fince my unfortunate Exile from the Houybnbum Country, I had compelled myfelf to tolerate the fight of Yaboos, and to converfe with Don Pedro de Mendez; yet my Memory and Imaginations were perpetually filled with the Virtues and Ideas of thofe exalted Houybubums. And when I began to confider, that by copulating with one of the Kahoo-Species I became a Parent of more, it fruck me with the utmoft Shame, Confufion, and Horror.

As foon as I entered the Houfe, my Wife took me in her Arms, and kiffed me, at which, having not been ufed to the touch of that odious Animal for fo many Years, I fell in a Swoon for almoft an Hour. At the time I am writing \section*{the Houyhnhnms. 337} writing it is five Years fince my laft return to England: During the firft Year I could not endure my Wife or Children in my prefence, the very Smell of them was intolerable, much lefs could I fuffer them to eat in the fame Room. To this hour they dare not prefume to touch my Bread, or drink out of the fame Cup, neither was I ever able to let one of them take me by the hand. The fiff Money I laid out was to buy two young Stone-Horfes, which I keep in a good Stable, and next to them the Groom is my greateft Favourite; for I feel my Spirits revived by the Smell he contraats in the Stable. My Horfes underftand me tolerably well; I converfe with them at leaft four Hours every Day. They are ftrangers to Bridle or Saddle, they live in great Amity with me, and Friendfhip to each other.

\author{
CHAP. XII.
}

The Autbor's Veracity. His Defign in publifbing this Work. His Cenfure of those Travellers who fwerve from the Truth. The Author clears bimJelf from any finifer Ends in writing. An Objection anfwered. The Met万od of planting Colonies. His Native Country commended. The Right of the Crown to tho fe Countries deforibed by the Author is juftified. The Difp-culty of conquering them. The Autbor takes bis laft leave of the Reader: propofeth bis manner of living for the future, gives good Advice, and con= cludes.

\(T\)H US, Gentle Reader, I have given thee a faithful Hiftory of my Travels for fixteen Years, and above feven̆

\section*{the Houyhninms. 339}
feven Months, wherein I have not been fo ftudious of Ornament as TruthI could perhaps like others have aftonifhed thee with ftrange improbable Tales; but I rather chofe to relate plain Matter of Fact in the fimpleft Manner and Style, becaufe my principal Defign was to inform, and not to amufe thee.

It is eafy for us who travel into remote Countries, which are feldom vifited by Englifbmen or other Europeans, to form Defcriptions of wonderful Animals both at Sea and Land. Whereas a Traveller's chief Aim fhould be to make Men wifer and better, and to improve their Minds by the bad as well as good Example of what they deliver concerning foreign Places.

I could heartily wilh a Law was enacted, that every Traveller before he were permitted to publifh his Voyages, fhould be obliged to make Oath before Vol.II.

A a
the

340 \(A\) Voyage to the Lord High Cbancellor that all he intehded to print was abfolutely true to the beft of hiskinowledge; for then the World would no longer be deceived as itsufually is, while fome Writers, to miake their Works pars the better upon the Publick, impofe the groffeft Falfities on the unwary Reader. I have perufed feveral Books of Travels with guveat delight in my younger Days; but having fince gone over moft Parts of the Globe, land been able to contradienmany fabulous Accounts from my dwn Obfervation, at hath given me a giteat Difguft/againft this part of Reading, and fome Indignation to fee the Credulity of Mankind fó impudently abufed. Therefore fince my Acquaintance were pleafed to think my poop Endeavour's might not be unacceptable to my Country, I impofed on myfelf as a Maxim, never to be fwerved from, that I would Arictly adbere zo Truth; neither indeed can I be ever under the leaf Temptations to vary from it, while I retain \section*{the Houyhnhins. 342}

in my Mind the Lectures and Examb ple of my noble Mafter, and the other illuftrious Honybnhums, of whom I had fo long the Honour to be an humble Hearer.
- Neiofo miferum Fortund Sinonem. Finxit, ranum etiam, mendacemque muro zird to haments griad Jundtive I I RNow very well how little Re2 putation is to be got by Writings which require neither Genious nor Learning, nor indeed any other Tatent, except a good Menory, or an exact fournal. I know likewife, the Writers of Travels, like Dictionary-Makers, are funk into Oblivion by the weight and bulk of thofe who come after, and therefore lie uppermoft. And it is highly prot bable, that fuch Travellers who fhalit hereafter vifit the Countries defcribed in this Work of mine, may by detecting my Errors, (if there be any) and adg ding many new Difcoveries of their own, juftle me out of vogue, and ftand in my place, making the World forget that I was ever an Author. This indeed would be too great a Mortification if I wrote for Fame: But, as my fole Intention was the Publick Good, I cannot be altogether difappointed. For who can read of the Virtues I have mentioned in the glorious Houybnhnms, without being afhamed of his own Vices, when he confiders himfelf as the reafoning, governing Animal of his Country? I fhall fay nothing of thofe remote Nations where raboos prefide, amongft which, the leaft corrupted are the Brobdingnagians, whofe wife Maxims in Morality and Government, it would be our Happinefs to obferve. But I forbear defcanting farther, and rather leave the judicious Reader to his own Remarks and Applications.

A a 2 own

342 A Voyage to

I am not a little pleafed that this Work of mine can poffibly meet with no Genfurers: For what Objections can be 3
\[
\text { the Houyhnings. } 343
\]
be made againft a Writer who relates only plain Facts that happened in fuch diftant Countries, where we have not the leaft Intereft with refpect either to Trade or Negotiations? I have carefully avoided every Fault with which common Writers of Travels are often too juftly charged. Befides, I meddle not with any Party, but write without Paffion, Prejudice, or Ill-will againft any Man or number of Men whatfoever. I write for the nobleft End, to inform and inftruet Mankind, over whom I may, without Breach of Modefty, pretend to fome Superiority from the Advantages I received by iconverfing fo long among the moft accomplifhed Houybnhnms. I write without any view towards Profit or Praife. I never fuffer a Word to pafs that may look like Reflection, or poffibly give the leaft of fence even to thofe who are moft ready to take it. So that I hope I may with Jutice pronounce mýfelf an Author perfectly blamelefs, againft whom the Aa \(3 \quad\) Tribes

Tribes of Anfwerers, Confiderers, \(\mathrm{Ob}_{\pi}\) fervers, Reflecters, Detecters, Remarkers will never be able to find Matter fors exercifing their Talents.

I Confess, it was whifpered to me, that I was bound in Duty as a Subject of England, to have given in a Memorial to a Secretary of State at my firft coming over; becaufe whatever Lands are difcovered by a Subject, belong to the Crown. But I doubt whetherpur Cony quefts in the Countries I treat of, would be as eafy as thofe of Ferdinando Cortez over the naked Americans, The Lilliputians, I think, are hardly worth the Charge of a Fleet and Army to reduce them, and I queftion whether it might be prudent or fafe to attempt the Brob dingnagians. Or whether an Fughifh Army would be much at their Eafe, with the Flying Ifland over theirHeads, The Houybubums, indeed, appear not to be fo well prepared for War, wsience to which they are perfect Strapgers, and exdict es es efpe
\[
\text { the Houyhninms. } 345
\] efpecially againft miffive weapons. However, fuppofing myfelf to be a Minifter of State, I could never give my Advice for invading them. Their Prudence, Unanimity, Unacquaintednefs with Fear, and their Love of theif Country would amply fupply all Defects in the Military Art. Inagine twenty thoufand of them breaking into the midh of an European Army, confoinding the Ranks, overturning the Carriages, battering the Warriors Faces into Mummy, by terrible Yerks from their hinder Hoofs. For they would well deferve the Character given fo 2 quiguftus; Recalcitrat mindique tutus. But inftead of Propofals for conquering that magnanimous Nation, I rather wifh they were in a Capacity or Difpofition to fend a fufficient Number of their Int habitants for civilizing Europe, by teaching th the firft Principles of Honour, Juftice, Truth, Temperance, Publick Spirit, Fortitude, Chaffity, Friendthip, Benevolence, and Fidelity. The A \({ }^{4} 4\) Names

346 A Voyage to
Names of all which Virtues are ftill retained among us in moft Languages, and are to be met with in fome modern as well as ancient Authors; which I am able to affert from my own fmall Reading.

But I had another Reafon which made me lefs forward to enlarge his Majeft's's Dominions by my Difcovery. To fay the Truth, I had conceived a few Scruples with Relation to the Diftributive Juftice of Princes upon thofe Occafions. For inftance, a Crew of Pyrates are driven by a Storm they know not whither, at length a Boy difcovers Land from the Top-maft, they go on Shore to rob and plunder; they fee an harmlers People, are entertained with Kindnefs, they give the Country a new Name, they take formal Poffeffion of it for their King, they fet up a rotten Plank or a Stone for a Memorial, they murder two or three Dozen of the Natives, bring away

\section*{the Houyhnings. 347} away a Couple more by Force for a Sample, return home, and get their Pardon. Here commences a new Dominion acquired with a Title by Divine Right. Ships are fent with the firft Opportunity, the Natives driven out or deftroyed, their Princes tortured to difcover thein Gold; a free Licence given to all ACts of Inhumanity and Luff, the Earth reeking with the Blood of its Inhabitants: And this execrable Crew of Butchers employed in fo pious an Expedition, is a modern Colony fent to convert and civilize an idolatrous and barbarous People,

But this Defcription, I confefs, doth by no means effect the Briti/h Nation, who may be an Example to the whole World for their Wifdom, Care, and Juftice in planting Colonies; their liberal Endowments for the Advancement of Religion and Learning; their Choice of devout and able Paftors to propagate Chrifianity, their Caution in ftocking their

\section*{348 A Vovage to} their Provinces with People of fober Lives and Converfations from this the Mother Kingdom; theirmftrict Regard to the Diftribution of Juftice in fupplying the GivitAdminiftration through all thein Colonies with Officers of the gireateft Abilities, lutter Strangers to Corruption; landito crown all, by fending the moft vigilantland vibtuous Governors, who have no other views than the Happinefs of the People over whom they prefide, and the Honour of the King their Mafter. aroustinef bas cromslobi as oxitivis
But, as thofe Countries which I have defcribed, do not appear to have a Defire of being conquered, and enflaved, murdered or driven out' by Colonies, nor abound either in Gold, Silver, Sugars or Tobacco; I did hunbly conceive they were by no means proper Objects of sour Zeal, our valour, or our Interefti: However, if thofe whom it may concern, think fit to beydi another Opinion, \(I\) am ready to de \({ }^{-}\) Tisels 6 pofe,

\section*{the Houyhnhnms. 349}
pofe, when I fhall be lawfully called, that no European did ever vifit there Countries before me. I mean, if the Inhabitants ought to be believed; unlefs a Difpute may arife about the two Taboos, faid to have been feen many Ages ago on a Mountain in Houylarhumband, from whence the Opinion is, that the Race of thofe Brutes hath defcended; and there, for any thing I know, may have been Engli/h, |which indeed I was apt to furpect from the Lineaments of their Pofterities Countenances, although very much defaced. But, how far that will go to make out a Title, I leave to the learned in Colony Law.

But as to the Formality of taking Poffeffion in my Sovereign's Name, it never came once into my Thoughts; and if it had, yet as my Affairs then ftood, I fhould perhaps in Point of Prudence and Self-Prefervation, have put it off to a better Opportunity.

\author{
HAVING
}

Having thus arifwered the only Objection that can ever be raifed againft me as a Travellor, I here take a final Leave of all my courteous Readers, and return to enjoy my own Speculations in my little Garden at Reddriff, to apply thofe excellent Leffons of Virtue, which I learned among the Houybubnms, to inftrutt the raboos of my own Family as far as I fhall find them docible Animals, to behold my Figure often in a Glafs, and thus, if poffible, habituate myfelf by time to tolerate the Sight of a human Creature: To lament the Brutality of Houybubnms in my own Country, but always treat their Perfons with Refpec, for the Sake of my noble Mafter, his Family, his Friends, and the whole Houybnibnm Race, whom thefe of ours have the Honour to refemble in all their Lineaments, however their Intellectuals came to degenerate.

\section*{the Houyhnanms.}

I began laft Week to permit my Wife to fit at Dinner with me, at the fartheft End of a long Table, and to anfwer (but with the utmoft Brevity) the few Queftions I ask'd her. Yet the frell of a Yaboo continuing very offenfive, I always keep my Nofe well ftopt with Rue, Lavender, or Tobacco-leaves. And although it be hard for a Man late in Life to remove old Habits, I am not altogether out of Hopes in fome time to fuffer a Neighbour \(Y_{a b o o ~ i n ~}\) my Company, without the Apprehenfions I am yet under of his Teeth or his Claws.

My Reconcilement to the Yabookind in general might not be fo difficult if they would be content with thofe Vices and Follies only, which Nature hath intitled them to. I am not in the leaft provoked at the Sight of a Lawyer, a Pick-pocket, a Colonel, a Fool, a Lord, a Gamefter, a Politician, a. Whore-mafter, a Phyfician, an Evidence,
\(35^{2} A\) VOYAGE to dence, a Süborner, an Attorney, a Trai tor, or the like: This is all according to the due Courfe of Things: But when Ibehold a Lump of Deformity, and Difeafes both in Body and Mind, fmitten with Pride, it immediately breaks all the Meafures of my \(\mathrm{Pa}-\) tience; neither fhall I be ever able to comprehend how fuch an Animal and fuch a Vice could tally together. The wife and virtuous Houybnbnms, who abound in all Excellencies that can adorn a rational Creature, have no Name for this \(V\) ice in their Language, which hath no Terms to exprefs any thing that is evil, except thofe whereby they deferibe the deteftable Qualities of theio Kaboos, oamong which they were not able to diftinguifh this of Pride for want of tharoughty underfanding hu* mane Nāture, as it fheweth itfelf in ow ther Countries, where that Animal pres fides. But I, who had more Experience, could plainly obferve fome Rudiments of it among the wild Kaboos:

\section*{the Houyhnhnms.}

But the Houybnbums, who live under the Government of Reafon, are no more proud of the good Qualities they poffefs, than I fhould be for not wanting a Leg or an Arm, which no Man in his Wits would boaft of, although he muft be miferable without them. I dwell the longer upon this Subject from the Defire I have to make the Society of an Englifb Yaboo by any means not infupportable, and therefore I here entreat thofe who have any Tincture of this abfurd Vice, that they will not prefume to come in my Sight.

\section*{\(F \quad I \quad N \quad I \quad S\)} veri) नiimue hoon rilato buoug =rom -tism jor fict od. bifoth I nish amblog poiM on rloidur cma as 20 get a mai Alomerifls fo floed bloow enty हid nie I. rixald tuortive slesmatim od flumed zea rasem yas yd ondist ndituras an \%o -nio vian I moisivita bis sidd nuogctuii 10 97ubrili pas suad ody stoll jevis:

\[
8181.9
\]```

