A DISSERTATION upon parties. Page 1
Letters on the study and use of history.

LETTER I. 259

LETTER II. Concerning the true use and advantages of it. 264

LETTER III. 1. An objection against the utility of history removed. 2. The false and true aims of those who study it. 3. Of the history of the first ages; with reflections on the state of antient history prophane and sacred. 284

LETTER IV. 1. That there is in history sufficient authenticity to render it useful, notwithstanding all objections to the contrary. 2. Of the method and due restrictions to be observed in the study of it. 318

LETTER V. 1. The great use of history, properly so called, as distinguished from the writings of mere annalists and antiquaries. 2. Greek and Roman historians. 3. Some idea of a complete history. 4. Farther cautions to be observed in this study; and the regulation of it, according to the different professions and situations of men: above all, the use to be made of it, (1) by divines; and (2) by those who are called to the service of their country. 333

LETTER VI. From what period modern history is peculiarly useful to the service of our country, viz. From the end of the fifteenth century to the present. The division of this into three particular periods: in order to a sketch of the history and state of Europe from that time. 358
