The image shows the front cover of an antique book. The cover is decorated with a dense, repeating floral pattern in shades of green and gold. The pattern features various flowers, including large five-petaled blossoms and smaller, more delicate flowers, all set against a background of stylized leaves and scrolling vines. The book's spine is visible on the left, bound in a plain, aged yellowish-brown material. A small, rectangular, light-colored paper label is affixed to the lower-left corner of the cover, containing the handwritten text 'Th' and '4897' stacked vertically.
